NO. 170—FIFTY-EIGHTH YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, JUNE 27, 1916 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

RUSSIANS CONTINUING THEIR FORWARD MARCH

Vigorous Fighting Goes on From Riga Region to Border of Roumania—Czar's Troops Now in Possession of Practically All Bukowina—Take Much Spoil From Austrians.

GERMANS MAKE DESPERATE RESISTANCE IN VOLHYNIA

Their Counter-Attacks Are Generally Repulsed, but Struggle Continues at Some Points—Violent Artillery Fire Maintained Along Whole Line—Turks Unsuccessfully Attempt Offensive.

PETROGRAD, June 26.—Today's official statement follows:

"Western front—There has been intense artillery fire in many sectors in the region of Jacobstadt and Dvinsk.

"In the region east of Horodyschohy, north of Baranovichi, after a violent bombardment of our trenches near the Scroboff farm on Sunday night, the enemy took the offensive, but was repulsed. At the same time, on the road to Slutsk, the enemy attempted to approach our trenches on the Schara River, but was repulsed by our fire.

"In the regions northeast of Lake Vygonovskoye yesterday at noon the Germans attacked the farm situated five versts southwest of Lipsk. They were repulsed. The enemy renewed his attack at noon on a greatly extended front, under cover of heavy and light artillery.

"Yesterday morning our aviators, Sub.-Lieuts. Kvasskoff and Vladimroff, perished, meeting a heroic death.

"On the Styr, from Kolki to Sokal, the Germans are bombarding our trenches with heavy artillery, and have attacked locally, but everywhere were successfully repulsed.

Cossacks Cross Dniester

"On the reaches of the Dniester, south of Busacz, our Don Cossacks, having crossed the river, fighting and overthrowing elements of the enemy's advance guard, occupied the villages of Siekergbine and Petruve, capturing five officers and 350 men.

"Russian cavalry, after a fight, occupied the enemy position near Pesoritt, nine versts west of Kimpolung (Bukowina). According to later reports we captured large deposits of wood and 21 abandoned wagons at Molit and Prumea stations, on the Gura Humora-Rasoka railway."

"Caucasus front—We repulsed six night attacks in the Trebisond sector in the regions of Platana and Djivizlyk.

"On the right bank of the Euphrates, the Turks assumed the offensive and seized a height in the region of Neurik early in the morning but were dispersed.

"Mesopotamia front—The enemy after artillery preparation took the offensive at Revanduse, near Mosul, and captured sectors of our position, but was driven out by a counter-attack, leaving a number of killed and wounded before our works.

"In the direction of Baghdad a Turkish offensive was frustrated by our troops, which inflicted severe losses upon the enemy."

Advance in Bukowina

The text of the official statement issued last night follows:

"West of Sniatyn, on the Pruth, 20 miles northwest of Czernowitz, our troops as they advanced occupied the villages of Killkhoff and Toulokhof.

"On the evening of June 23 the town of Kimpolung was taken after intense fighting. Sixty officers and 2,000 men were taken prisoners, and seven machine guns were captured. At the railway station whole trains were captured.

"With the capture of the towns of Kimpolung and Kuty-Wisnitz, we took possession of the whole of Bukowina.

"It was found that during a hurried retirement in the region of the Iskany station, north of Sufawa, the enemy left behind 58 empty wagons, 170 wagons of maize and about 2,500 tons of anthracite, beside structural materials, great reserves of fodder and other booty.

"Southwest of Bivinisky the enemy opened a heavy fire in the region of the village of Pustonyty. They then took the offensive, but were repulsed with heavy losses.

"West of Radsivilioff one of our regiments got a footing in enemy trenches and captured four officers and 303 men. The enemy then concentrated their fire and obliged us to retire from the captured trenches to our positions. We retained the prisoners and succeeded in repulsing all counter-attacks.

"An enemy aeroplane squadron threw bombs on Roudnya and Potchaievka."

German Attacks

On the northern part of the front, as far as Riga, the report said:

"Enemy artillery effected a concentrated bombardment on the Tsekuli bridgehead. In the region of Illoukst we effected a coup-de-main against German trenches. The enemy attempted a counter-attack, but was repulsed by our rifle fire and machine gun fire. After this defeat the Germans intermittently bombarded at long range with many batteries.

"On Thursday evening the enemy opened a violent artillery fire in the direction of the Bersina farm, bombarding the village of Kliby, on the Bersina River, east of Bogdanoff. Toward night the enemy infantry in considerable force opened an offensive against the Bersina farm, but, met by our bayonet counter-attacks, were put to flight toward their own trenches, leaving large numbers of dead before our barbed wire entanglements.

"West of Torchyn, due west of Lutsk, desperate fighting continues.

"Thanks to the united and effective efforts of our infantry and artillery, all the enemy's attacks in the region of the village of Subilno were repulsed.

"Caucasus front—In the Trebisond sector, in the region of Midourtiret, the Turks at dawn on Thursday took the offensive, which our advanced guard repulsed with heavy losses, many prisoners being left in our hands. Our aeroplanes successfully bombarded Mamakhatum."

Austrian Report

VIENNA, June 26.—The German troops west of Sokal, in Volhynia, have stormed Russian positions over a front of 3,000 metres and repulsed all counter-attacks, according to the Austrian official communication issued today. The communication admits that the Austrians have shortened their fighting front in the Italian theatre between the rivers Brenta and Easch. The retirement there was unhindered by the Italians. The communications says:

"On the heights north of Kuty (Galicia) Russian attacks were repulsed with heavy enemy losses. On the remainder of the front in Galicia, the situation is calmer.

"In Volhynia the fighting actively is restricted mostly to artillery combats. West of Sokal German troops stormed enemy positions over a length of some 3,000 metres and repulsed all counter-attacks. Further north the situation is unchanged.

"Italian theatre—In order to safeguard our full freedom of action we shortened at some points our front in the fighting sector between the rivers Brenta and Etsch. This movement was completed unnoticed and unhindered by the enemy and without losses."

TO RUSH WORK ON P.G.E. ROAD

Premier Bowser's Announcement That Construction Will Be Resumed Shortly Is Well Received at Prince George.

PRINCE GEORGE, B. C., June 27.—Premier Bowser on Saturday evening announced to a very large and enthusiastic meeting that work on the uncompleted parts of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway would start in a very short time, all the arrangements preliminary to active operations being about concluded. The announcement was received with loud applause, and as a result of it the merchants and others are preparing for a renewal of the commercial activity which characterized this place not so long ago.

The Premier also stated that if his Government was returned at the general elections, a condition in which he expressed the utmost confidence, one of the matters which would receive his early attention would be the carrying on to completion of the railway programme inaugurated when the P.G.E. first projected. It was his intention, he said, to carry on the construction of the line from this place into the Peace River country at the earliest opportunity, and give direct railway connections with the rich agricultural lands of the North.

During the meeting the Premier read a message which he had just received from D'Arcy Tate, president of the railway, as follows:

"Contract for ties, pilings etc., on the Prince George end awarded to H. N. Carleton, who is now organizing to undertake work forthwith. Track laying will be started just as soon as the necessary quantity of rails can be procured, and utmost efforts will be made to prosecute the work."

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

Rumor Connects His Name With Viceroyalty of Ireland Under Mr. Lloyd George's Scheme

OTTAWA, June 26.—The latest rumor regarding the Duke of Connaught is that he is to become the first viceroy of Ireland, under the new Home Rule scheme of Mr. Lloyd George. No official confirmation or denial of the story, naturally, could be obtained, and Government House refused to deny the rumor.

While the story is only a rumor, there is a disposition in political circles to give it credence.

The Duke left this afternoon for the West. He will inspect the camp at Petawawa, tomorrow, and will also inspect the camps at Hughes and Vernon. He will stay two weeks at Banff and one at Victoria.

The Duchess and Princess Patricia, who will accompany him, are attended by Miss Dorothy Yorke and Miss Clementine Adam, ladies-in-waiting. Other members of the party are: Colonel Stanton, military secretary; Major Duff, A. D. C.; and Captain Mackintosh, A. D. C. Lord Neville, comptroller of the Duke's household, who met with an accident recently, is still in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, and will not accompany the Duke on his trip.

ALLIES ATTACK ON ALL FRONTS

Indications That Long-Expected General Offensive Against Forces of Central Empires Group Has Been Opened.

BRITISH ARTILLERY UNUSUALLY ACTIVE

Austrians Thrown Back by Italians on Trentino Frontier—Russians Continue Their Furious Onslaughts in East.

LONDON, June 26.—Every surface indication today pointed to the beginning of the long expected super-offensive of the Allies. Breaking out with a terrific smash against the Austrian front, the Italians drove the Austrians back yesterday on a front of more than fifteen miles. They recaptured seven positions taken by the Austrian Crown Prince in his recent drive in the Trentino, including the row of strongly fortified work at Asiago. General Cadorna is reported to be driving home this offensive with great power.

Premier Briand conferred with the British commander, Sir Douglas Haig, on Saturday and Sunday at the British front. In this connection, an official British report states, our artillery has been more active than ordinarily for a long time.

An order of the day of the Italian commander, General Cadorna, says:

"The action of the counter-offensive has now happily begun."

The Russian drive is part of the general movement, which The Matin, of Paris summarizes as follows:

"The hour of action for the Allies is here. Attack succeeds defence on many fronts."

At practically the same hour that the Italian rush began, the British artillery broke loose with a battering attack against German trenches from La Bassee Canal southward to the Somme. Both the British and German official statements comment on the violence of this attack, which in certain sectors approached the intensity of the drum-fire that proceeds an infantry attack.

Dispatches from Berlin today reported that the Russians, instead of being dismayed by their temporary check in Volhynia, were bringing immense numbers of reserves into action and had renewed their vigorous attempts to reach Kovel. In the southeast the Slavs have cleared Bukowina of the enemy and are entering the passes of the Carpathians. German correspondents emphasize the fiery character of the Russian attacks and the inexhaustible supply of men and munitions, as if to prepare their readers for further Russian successes.

RAILWAY INQUIRY

Completion of Proposed Commission Expected to Follow Premiers' Visit to New York

OTTAWA, June 26.—Sir Robert Borden and Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways, who went to New York yesterday in connection with the appointment of a commission to inquire into Canadian railways, will be back in the capital on Wednesday.

If the Premier and his colleague are as successful as they expected to be when they left, it is expected the personnel of the proposed commission will not be delayed.

TWO TRANSPORTS ARE DESTROYED

Work of Italian Warships in Harbor of Durazzo—French Destroyer and Italian Auxiliary Sunk.

ROME, June 26.—Two Austrian transports have been sunk in the harbor of Durazzo by the Italians. The transports were loaded with arms and ammunition.

An official statement regarding the sinking says:

"Italian warships entered Durazzo roadstead on the night of the 25th and sank two steamers, one of 5,000 tons and the other of 3,000 tons, laden with arms and munitions. The warships returned without loss to their base, notwithstanding the heavy fire of the enemy."

Italian and French Vessels

PARIS, June 26.—The Minister of Marine has announced that the Italian auxiliary cruiser Citti di Messina and the French torpedo boat destroyer Fourche were torpedoed in the Strait of Otranto. This strait is between Albania and Italy and leads into the Adriatic Sea from the Mediterranean.

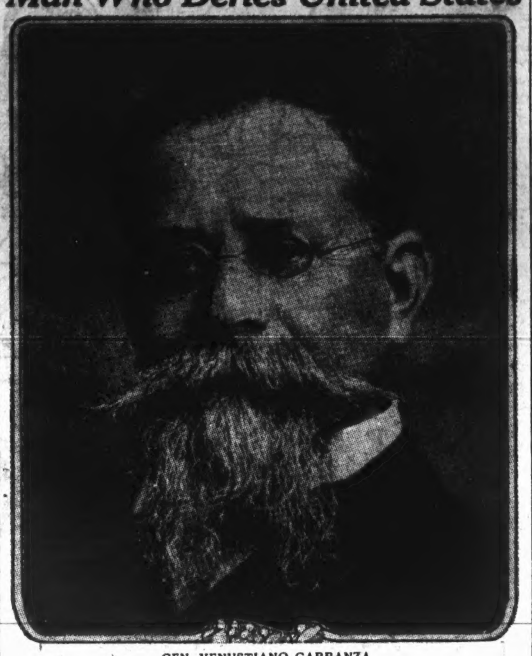

The Citti de Messina, which was being escorted by the Fourche, was the first victim of the submarine. The Fourche later attacked the underwater boat, which submerged and disappeared.

Shortly afterward the Fourche herself was torpedoed. Almost all of her crew were saved.

Fuse Inquiry Report

OTTAWA, June 26.—Sir Wm. Meredith and Mr. Justice Duff are hard at work this week on their report dealing with the evidence taken at the fuse inquiry. It is likely that their report will be in the hands of the Government at the end of the week, or at the latest early next week. As the findings of the commissioners are likely to come up in Cabinet council before being given out, it is probable that it will be toward the end of next week before the report is made public.

Man Who Defies United States

GEN. VENUSTIANO CARRANZA

WAITS ON WORD FROM CARRANZA

Reply to Recent Note From Washington Will Decide Issue of Peace or War Between U. S. and Mexico.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Efforts toward Latin-American mediation in the Mexican crisis, favored by Carranza officials, collapsed today without having reached the stage of a formal proposal to the United States.

It was made plain by Secretary Lansing to Ignacio Calderon, Minister from Bolivia, who called with the intention of asking whether the United States would entertain any offer of the services of its southern neighbors to aid in avoiding war, that the Washington Government sees nothing in the situation that would warrant arbitration proceedings.

Mr. Lansing talked with the Minister for some time, and is understood to have informed him that the blame for the grave outlook rested squarely upon General Carranza.

When the Minister left the State Department he said the time "seemed inopportune," and that for the present the diplomatic representatives of six South and Central American countries who had approached the Mexican Embassy on the subject of mediation and received assurances that the Carranza Government was favorable to the principle, would not offer their good offices to the United States.

The United States is now waiting for Carranza's final word in reply to the note sent yesterday demanding release of the prisoners taken at Carrizal and a formal diplomatic announcement of intentions. The note reached Mexico City late last night. Special Agent Rodgers reported its receipt, adding that he had failed in his first efforts to place it in the hands of the Carranza Minister for Foreign Relations.

Undoubtedly it was delivered today. Officials expected an answer within a day or two at most. Meanwhile Congress and the War Department put new energy into their preparations for war.

War Department activities during the day covered a wide field. Supplementary orders to departmental commanders called for great haste in getting the National Guard to the border.

Estimates to cover the pay and maintenance expense of the State troops, totalling $88,000,000 up to January 1, were laid before Congress.

With them went figures of $13,000,000 for the purchase of horses and mules. The total estimates of the quartermaster-general alone passed the $10,000,000 mark.

LIEUT. BRITTAIN RETURNS

Officer Who Was Company Sergt.-Major in Original Princess Patricias—View of Affairs at Front

OTTAWA, June 26.—Lieut. A. E. Brittain, who was company sergeant-major in the original Princess Patricias, and who enlisted in Toronto, has returned to Ottawa. Lieut. Brittain was eleven months in the trenches, and has been called back to undertake instructional work.

"We will win as soon as we have the guns and ammunition. We are catching up with the Germans now in munitions, and it may take some time, but we will surely win," was his summary of the war situation.

Lieut. Brittain is the last of ten company sergeants-major in the Princess Patricias. He was through all the heavy fighting at Ypres last Spring, and aside from minor wounds came through unscathed.

SASKATCHEWAN CROPS

Departmental Report Shows Them to Be Good Throughout—Weather Needed

REGINA, June 26.—The Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture today issued the usual fortnightly report on crop conditions, together with the estimated acreage under crop in wheat, oats, barley, and flax for the year 1916. All crops are making great headway, and are in healthy and sturdy condition. Wheat is from 9 to 12 inches high; oats from 5 to 8, and barley from 3 to 6 inches.

The weather during the last two weeks has been cold and showery, and warmer weather is wanted. Plenty of moisture is assured, for the ground is practically soaked. Slight damage has been noticed owing to cut worms, and in the Indian Head district the wheat crop is lightly browned, presumably by frost.

AUSTRIANS SINK GREEK STEAMER

Said to Have Been Torpedoed While on Way to Italy—Seven Other Vessels, Including One Danish, Destroyed.

LONDON, June 26.—The Greek steamer Nitza, which sailed from Norfolk on June 5 for Savona, Italy, has foundered in the Mediterranean. Her crew was saved.

A Lloyds dispatch from Alicante, Spain, says that the Nitza was torpedoed and sank off Cape Capola.

The sinking of seven vessels was reported today. All were sailing craft except the British steamer Astrologer, 918 tons gross, owned in Leith. Eight members of the Astrologer landed and the remainder are missing.

Lloyds report that the Danish steamer Svatten has been attacked and set on fire.

The sinking of the British steamer Canford Chine, 2,839 tons gross, by a submarine off Calella, Spain, last night is reported in a Reuter dispatch from Barcelona. The captain and twelve of the crew were landed at Barcelona.

DESTROY U. S. CONSULATE

Mob at Torreon Encouraged in Its Demolition by Mayor and Carranza Troops

EAGLE PASS, Texas, June 27.—The United States consulate at Torreon, Mexico, was demolished, June 18, by a mob of 3,000 civilians, led by the mayor of the city and a Carranza band, according to refugees arriving here late today.

The mob rushed through the streets crying: "Death to all the Gringoes," and, upon reaching the consulate, tore up the furniture and destroyed the building. Then the rioters congregated in the central plaza of the town, where a mass meeting was held. The Mayor and other prominent Mexicans it is said, addressed this meeting, inciting the people against Americans, and advising that all citizens of the United States be run out of the country.

ACTIVITY INCREASING ALONG BRITISH FRONT

Heavy Artillery Does Much Damage to German Trenches and Other Defensive Works—Raiding Parties, in Which Anzacs Figure, Penetrate Enemy Lines at Several Points.

SIX GERMAN BALLOONS COME DOWN IN FLAMES

Assailants of Verdun Show Some Slackening of Efforts, no Infantry Actions Being Reported Yesterday—Some Ground Regained by French Near Thiaumont Fortifications.

LONDON, June 26.—The following official statement was issued tonight:

"We carried out a number of successful enterprises on Sunday night at different points, enemy lines being penetrated at ten different places. Our parties inflicted considerable casualties on the enemy and took several prisoners. Our casualties everywhere were very slight.

"The Munster Fusiliers and Anzacs were particularly successful.

"In connection with these raids there was considerable artillery work on both sides yesterday evening and during the night. Our artillery fired with great effect, the enemy trenches being severely damaged in many places. Four large explosions were caused by our heavy artillery in the enemy's rearguard lines between Pozieres and Montauban.

"Today our artillery was again active at numerous points and considerable damage was caused to enemy defensive works, notably near Longueval, Gommecourt, Givenchy, North of the Loos salient, opposite Wytschaete and east of Wieltje.

"One enemy kite balloon, in addition to those already reported, was destroyed by our aircraft yesterday, making a total of six out of fifteen attacked. The six were seen to fall in flames."

Artillery at Work

The following official statement was issued last night:

"Last night, after a short bombardment, a raid on our trenches northeast of Loos was driven off, leaving three dead on our parapet. North of the River Douve a party tried to cut our wire, but was driven off, leaving two dead.

"Today our artillery has continued to be very active along the whole front, and mutual artillery actions have taken place at many points, the heaviest shelling being about Neuville St. Vaast, south of Ailly, and to the north of the Ypres-Menin road. About the Thiepval wood and Hamel the enemy did a considerable amount of shelling with trench mortars and artillery.

"Near Hulluch a hostile organization was destroyed by our artillery.

"Since yesterday evening the enemy has blown up four mines, two of them opposite Hulluch, one south of La Bassee and one north of Neuve Chapelle. No casualties were caused by these mines. We destroyed five kite balloons this afternoon."

Infantry Resting at Verdun

PARIS, June 26.—The following official statement was issued tonight:

"In Champagne, our artillery shattered enemy organizations north of Ville-sur-Tourbe.

"On the front north of Verdun there was no infantry action during the day. The bombardment diminished in intensity on both banks of the Meuse. Nevertheless, in the region of Hill 304, a spirited artillery action was maintained.

"In the Vosges the fire of our batteries on the German positions east of Chasolotte caused the explosion of two munition depots."

The Belgian communication says: "A somewhat intense artillery occurred near Nieuport, and also in the direction of Dixmude and Steenstrate. There was bomb fighting in the region of Steenstrate."

The text of the afternoon statement follows:

"In the Argonne, an enemy attack on one of our small posts at La Fille Morte was repulsed with hand grenades.

"On the left bank of the Meuse, the artillery duel was particularly lively in the region of Deadman's Hill.

"On the right bank, a German attack delivered last night on our positions west of the Thiaumont works was completely checked by our infantry and artillery fire. During a local operation between the woods of Fumin and Chenois we seized some elements of German trenches.

"In other sectors there were artillery actions."

French Regain Ground

An earlier statement said:

"On the left bank of the Meuse a German attack on our trenches on the southern slopes of Deadman's Hill was stopped by our fire.

"On the right bank of the river the fighting continued during the night in the sector of the Thiaumont works, where our counter-attacks enabled us to take a few elements of trenches west of the works. We have made some progress by hand grenade fighting in the village of Fleury.

"The bombardment has continued violently on the other sectors on the right bank of the river, but there has been no infantry action.

"In Lorraine, northeast of Pont-a-Mousson, a strong enemy reconnoitering party was dispersed in the Chiminot wood.

"In the Vosges an attempted attack on our positions in the Fave valley completely failed."

"During the night of June 24-25 German aeroplanes threw bombs on Luneville, Baccarat and St. Die. The material damage was unimportant. Some children were wounded at St. Die. This has been noted with a view to reprisals."

Raided at Souke

BERLIN, June 26.—The fighting activity in the Western Theatre on the fronts occupied by the British and the north wing of the French army was important last night and has been so for the past two days, says the statement issued today by the army headquarters.

The British have developed pronounced artillery activity along the part of the Franco-Belgian front they hold from La Bassee canal to the Somme. The British fire continued uninterruptedly all Saturday night.

British Casualties

LONDON, June 26.—An official casualty list issued last night, covering all the British fronts, gives the number of officers at 333, of whom 115 were killed, and of men as 7,733, of whom, 1,487 were killed. This makes a total number of casualties for the last week 8,080, of whom 1,602 were killed.

CAPTAIN MOREY TELLS OF FIGHT

Courageous Action of Captain Boyd in Leading Charge Against Mexicans—Negro Troops Strive Against Odds.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, MEXICO, June 26, via wireless to Columbus, N.M. —American negro troopers faced almost certain death at Carrizal with smiles in their eyes and slang on their lips, and they burst into song once or twice as they fought their way against grim odds. This was the story told by Captain Lewis Morey when he arrived at Field Headquarters today.

"For forty-five minutes the men fought, joking among themselves all the while, even though they realised we had been trapped and had little chance of getting out alive," he said.

Captain Morey said he had never seen such valor as was displayed by Captain Charles T. Boyd in leading a handful of skirmishers through the machine gun fire and into the ambush of death. He added that it was not until their ammunition was exhausted that the troop was finally cut to pieces, and told of the heroic death of Lieut. Henry R. Adair, of Portland, Ore., in an attempt to replenish it.

Lieut. Adair died fighting, his last words being "Go on, Sergeant," to a non-commissioned officer by his side, Capt. Morey said. The two were on their way to pack ammunition when they were intercepted near a small irrigation ditch by a detail of the Mexicans. Lieut. Adair had already been wounded, and had lost his pistol in the previous fighting, but he had secured another and was fighting a hand-to-hand battle when he was killed. He fell back unconscious, and was caught by the negro sergeant as he slid toward the ditch, which was deeply filled with water. The sergeant held Adair in his arms, his face over the water, until he died, the wounded officer reviving long enough to whisper orders to leave him and finish the mission. Capt. Morey said that Capt. Boyd warned the men before the fight that they were advancing into the greatest danger. He reiterated that the Mexicans opened fire first from their machine gun trench, and asserted that almost immediately afterward a detachment of the Mexicans circled to the rear and drove off a number of the American horses, which a few men had been left to guard while the cavalry men dismounted in line of skirmish.

The size of the battlefield and the cover from which the Mexicans fought made it necessary for his troop and that of Capt. Boyd to separate and fight. What were practically individual engagements, Capt. Morey said.

Capt. Morey was brought here by troops of the 11th Cavalry sent to rescue the Carrizal survivors, after having led a handful of starving troopers forty miles over a desert to relief.

Money for Greece

LONDON, June 26.—The Entente Powers, according to Reuter's Athens correspondent, have agreed to pay to Greece an instalment of the previously concluded loan. This is for the purpose of tiding over the urgent needs of the Greek Government until after the elections.

Endorse Mr. Hughes

CHICAGO, June 26.—The Progressive national committee tonight voted to endorse Charles E. Hughes for President. The vote was 32 to 8, with 9 declining to vote, on the ground that the committee was exceeding its power in taking such action.

Wireless in Germany

NEW YORK, June 26.—The Massachusetts wireless training ship Bangor was in collision in a dense fog early the day with a British warship, believed to be one of the merchant auxiliary cruisers on patrol duty. A wireless message indicated that neither vessel was seriously damaged.

Russian Line Is Steadily Pushing Westward

The shaded portion on the above map shows the territory which has been regained by the Czar's armies since the great drive was inaugurated three weeks ago. The dotted line shows the extreme eastern limit to which the forces of the Central Empires reached last year. Today the Russians have retaken the whole of Bukowina and are at the foothills of the Carpathians. Further north the Russians are closing in on Lemberg, capital of Galicia. Terrific fighting is in progress along the Riga-Dvinsk front.

CASEMENT TRIAL IS COMMENCED

Knight Accused of High Treason Appears Before Court—Probable Line of Defence Indicated by Questions.

LONDON, June 26.—At 10:30 o'clock this morning a clerk in the court of the Lord Chief Justice called out "The King vs. Sir Roger Casement," and the trial of the knight who is accused of having instigated the Irish rebellion was under way. Viscount Reading, the Lord Chief Justice, and Justices Avery and Horridge, in bright scarlet robes and powdered wigs, took their seats. The case was called and Sir Roger Casement was brought in to answer to the charge of high treason.

The indictment followed in legal points that returned against Colonel Arthur Lynch, who fought against the British in the Boer war. His chief counsel, Alexander Sullivan, of Dublin, arose quickly and argued that the indictment set forth was "no offence known to the law" and that none of the acts specified was alleged to have taken place in any territory over which the King has any juriadiction. After consultation the court ruled that any exceptions to the indictment in a case of such importance could be taken after the hearing without prejudice to the prisoner.

Then Sir Roger made a formal plea of not guilty, speaking in firm tones. Jurors from the panel were called forward. The prisoner's counsel objected to the first, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called up. There was difficulty in securing jurors. The defence challenged for cause more than a dozen.

Question for Jury

At 11:10 o'clock the jury was completed. Sir Frederick Smith, the Attorney-General, made the opening address for the Government. He dwelt on the gravity of high treason and said the jury would have to decide whether there were any extenuating circumstances for the offence was an aggravated one "against the sovereign he formerly served and the country against which he struck."

After reciting Sir Roger's efforts to organize an Irish brigade among the Irish prisoners in Germany, Sir Frederick said: "I pause deliberately to say that if there is any explanation for Sir Roger's original journey to Germany which can be justified or reconciled with his professed allegiance, I hope his counsel will present it."

Sir Frederick turned from the story of Sir Roger's activities in Germany to the landing of the expedition in Ireland, saying: "We must now pass to that unhappy country which has been the scene of so many cruel and cynical conspiracies, but never of one more cruel and cynical than this." The Attorney-General concluded with these words: "I hope I have outlined the facts without heat and without feeling. The prisoner has played a desperate game. Now he is called upon to pay the hazard."

Private John Cronin, of the Munster Fusiliers, described Sir Roger's attempts to make enlistments from Irish prisoners in Germany. Alexander Sullivan, cross-examining the witness for Sir Roger, partly indicated the line of defence by eliciting replies that Sir Roger had told prisoners they were to fight for Ireland and would be taken to Ireland if Germany won a sea battle.

Recruiting Irish Brigade

The witness said he had seen Casement in Cork in 1913 at a meeting for organizing the Irish volunteers.

Another Irish soldier, Daniel O'Brien, gave his testimony and added that the rations of Irish soldiers who refused to join the brigade were reduced.

Michael O'Connor, a corporal, who was among the prisoners in the Limburg camp, said Casement told the prisoners he was recruiting an Irish brigade, and that the European war was about over.

Casement's counsel indicated again that the defence would contend that Casement was recruiting a regiment, not to fight England, but to uphold Home Rule against the Ulsterites.

On cross-examination, O'Brien said the Germans cut down the rations of all prisoners at the same time, regardless of whether or not they were Irishmen.

Michael Ward and John Neal offered similar testimony—Neal saying Casement told the prisoners his purpose was to form a brigade to insure Home Rule for Ireland.

He said Casement also mentioned fighting the British and Russians, but on cross-examination, could not remember the names of any of his comrades who had heard the same statement.

The Crown then began offering evidence to show Casement's connection with the Dublin rebellion, calling Michael Hussey, a laborer, who was the last witness before adjournment until tomorrow. Hussey simply testified about seeing lights at sea off the Tralee coast on the night before Casement's landing from a German submarine.

Several soldiers, John Robinson, Michael O'Connor, Michael Morrow, the last in uniform, with an empty right sleeve, and John Neill, in hospital garb, gave testimony during the afternoon. It was mainly a repetition of the police court evidence of Sir Rodger's speeches and promises to Irish prisoners in Germany.

Line of Defence

The line taken in cross-examination indicated that the defence will contend the prisoner was pursuing the activities he was engaged in before the war—of organizing Nationalist volunteers. The witnesses agreed that Sir Rodger proposed to take them to Ireland, if Germany won a naval battle to "free Ireland" and "strike a blow against England."

The solicitor-general attempted to question Neill regarding the speeches of a German general made to the men at the Hanover camp. Mr. Sullivan objected on the ground that Sir Rodger was not charged with conspiracy, and this was an attempt to introduce evidence of the doings of a person whom it was not proved Casement ever knew, at a place it was not alleged he had ever been. The Chief Justice said that the court would have no hesitation in deciding the point, but suggested to the prosecution that the evidence proposed be not pursued.

Neill testified that Sir Rodger said: "Ireland now has the strongest power in the world at her back. England is beaten. Now is the chance to strike a blow for Ireland." He also said, according to the witness, that the Irish brigade was first to fight with the Turks against the Russians, then with the Germans against the British, and then shed their blood for their own people.

"Sullivan got the witnes sconsiderably mixed on his dates and on the dividing line between his personal knowledge and hearsay.

After unimportant evidence had been given, the court was adjourned. Veteran lawyers say that probably in no other important case in the past cencentury have there been so many challenges of jurors summoned. The custom in British courts is to accept, virtually, all those called, and challenges, as a rule, are employed only for definite cause. It was noticeable that the Government challenged talesmen with distinctively Irish names, the defence, however, challenging the greater number.

Heavy Seas in Alaskan Waters Causes Loss of Steamer—Survivors Rescued

Telegraphic dispatches yesterday, tell of the fate of the steamer Northland, which sank off Kake, Alaska, in the heavy seas. The steamer Humboldt picked up twelve survivors. There was no loss of life reported.

The Northland left Seattle for Alaska points on June 18, and had a cargo of 400 tons of coal and 200 tons of cannery supplies. The vessel now lies on a soft bottom in a depth of 40 feet of water. Heavy seas smashed in the vessel's ports and she filled and sank. Four of the crew are standing by at Petersburg, Alaska.

The Northland is owned by the Border Line Transportation Company, of Seattle. She is a vessel of 865 tons gross, and owing to the fact that there is another vessel bearing the same name, the one that has just been lost was known as the "little Northland." Lloyd's list gives the name of her owners as the Northland Steamship Company, of Seattle, but the latter company sold the little Northland and the steamer Alki to the present owners last year.

THEY COUNT ON YOU!

Our boys in khaki are fighting or dying—as fate wills—in the greatest war the British Empire has ever been called upon to share. They are cheerful in the face of danger because they sincerely believe that YOU WHO CANNOT GO are seeing to it that their dear ones do not want. Are you going to betray that trust?

CAN THEY TRUST YOU?

If you feel that you can't spare anything; if you feel that it is not up to you to give anything; if you feel that the Victoria boys at the front are asking for charity

DON'T GIVE A CENT

They don't want charity! All they ask is for us at home to do our duty as they are doing theirs.

Lowest Prices, White Cross Candy Store.

My Treasure Book

Until Mappin & Webb opened a store of their own in Montreal, the woman who possessed a copy of their English catalogue counted herself as of the elect. It was her choicest possession—a rare edition—eagerly consulted—jealously guarded—because so few of these found their way to Canada.

With the opening of the Montreal store, a different policy has been pursued.

Instead of one large "Treasure Book" issued once a year, a number of reasonable catalogues are arranged, each one complete in itself and showing the choicest, the rarest and the most substantial in Jewellery, Precious Stones, Gold and Silverware for the individual season.

Our latest catalogue — and a very beautiful one—is ready for distribution. May we send you a copy?

THE ALLIES' OFFENSIVE

Events are commencing to move more rapidly in the various theatres of war. Observers in London and Paris believe that the long-expected offensive of the Allies on the Western front is about to take shape and the British official communique indicates efforts are being made to feel out the strength of the enemy. Beyond the momentary pauses which must always succeed desperate efforts such as the Germans have been making before Verdun there are still no indications that the efforts of the Crown Prince's armies are being relaxed. But it may be that the French in this sector of the front have now fully taken the measure of their opponents and are in a position to launch an offensive of their own on a large scale.

It is not so much the actual happenings in the West that have inspired the idea that the co-ordinated effort of the Allies is in train. The Russian and Italian fronts give the index to future happenings. Bukowina has been completely occupied by the armies of General Brusiloff. Russian troops are defiling along the passes of the Carpathians on the frontier of that province. The advance in Galicia is being pressed. Northwards the Russians have made gains at some points, and everywhere have repulsed the violent attacks made by the Germans, who are seeking to counteract the defeats of their ally further south. German commentators speak of the inexhaustible supply of men and munitions that the Russians have brought into the field, an admission by itself that is preparatory to the confession of further gains by the troops of the Czar.

On the Italian front General Cadorna has commenced an offensive the effect of which is admitted by the Austrians, who announce they have shortened their line. The success of this movement will be in the first place to drive the Austrians out of Italian territory and finally to win back the positions previously occupied on the Trentino front. The ability of the Italians to assume the offensive following the Austrian drive speaks volumes for the organization of their army and the strategy of the higher command, which has promptly seized upon the psychological moment created by the Russian advance through Bukowina and Galicia.

The situation favorable to a movement on all fronts has been further clarified by the events of the past few weeks. Roumania's neutrality is effectively guaranteed by the Russian occupation of Bukowina. The pressure brought to bear by the Entente Powers upon Greece has paved the way for an advance out of Salonica. Turkey's preoccupation in Asia Minor reduces the possibility that she will be able to come to the aid of the Bulgarians when the latter are striving to stay the progress of General Sarrail's army. These latter considerations, while only of secondary interest, may prove of considerable importance in deciding the success of the co-ordinated campaign now taking effect.

Naturally after waiting for nearly two years high hopes are being entertained of the success which will attend the first definite co-ordinated attempt made by the Allies to oust the enemy from the territory he has conquered. We should be very poor optimists were it otherwise. But it must always be remembered that final success depends on the numerical superiority in men and the overwhelmingly superior supply of munitions. The Russians outnumber their opponents, probably two to one. The Italians must have an army superior to that of the Austrians on their front. The French, British and Serbians operating from Salonica are at least equal in strength to the forces that Bulgaria can put into the field, considering the casualties suffered by the latter in the campaign against Serbia. On the Western front it is estimated that the Germans have some 2,000,000 troops. Possibly this number is an exaggeration and it would be nearer the mark to say 1,750,000. The French have approximately 2,000,000, and possible more, whereas the British army's strength is unknown. According to the last official report given out several months ago the troops under Sir Douglas Haig numbered 1,000,000. Recently we know there has been a considerable movement of troops from Britain to France, but how many of these were required to repair the wastage of war and how many went to form new units in the field is altogether a matter of speculation. It is safe to assume that by now the British armies in France and Belgium are certainly 1,200,000 strong, so that numerically speaking the Allies on this front outnumber the enemy by three to two.

The numerical superiority, if the figures are even approximately correct, should be sufficient in such an offensive as appears to be in train. The question then resolves itself into one of munitions. The Allies' equipment in this respect has been prodigiously increased since the day that The London Times pointed out that their lack was a fatal bar to success in the fight for Aubers Ridge. The experience of the war must by this time have clearly shown the military authorities the character of the supply needed if offensives on a large scale are to be pushed to a successful conclusion. The unknown quantity in the entire situation is the extent of the supply of munitions enjoyed by the enemy. That is something that the Allies cannot find out. It can only be determined in the course of an offensive. The tremendous artillery preparation necessary in the attack on Verdun, the immense supplies exhausted by the Austrian in their Italian drive, the experiences of our own troops in the recent fighting at the Ypres Salient, all argue that the enemy is plentifully equipped. As long as the superiority in men is maintained the question of final victory resolves itself into munitions, munitions and more munitions, until the defences of the enemy are wrecked beyond hope of repair and it is possible to force him to fight in the open as the Russians have been successful in doing over a portion of their front. The day that the Allies have an overwhelming superiority in munitions will ring the death knell of all Teutonic chances of emerging from this war with their territory intact. Until we know that such a day has arrived it would be unwise to prophecy final victory as a result of the present co-ordinated offensive if it develops. But it seems safe to say that the Allies have at last reached a position where they have seized the initiative and that any German attack made in the future is foredoomed to failure. The heaviest fighting of the war has yet to come. We must brace ourselves to hear of long casualty rolls.

ALDERMAN TODD'S RESOLUTION

We print today a letter from Alderman Todd in which he takes exception to our criticism arising out of his resolution to secure for the citizens their rights to the free use of the existing E. & N. railway bridge for foot and vehicular traffic. Before proceeding to restate our attitude it is timely to direct Alderman Todd's attention to the fact that common courtesy should have told him The Colonist should have been given the first opportunity of printing his letter, inasmuch as it was in answer to strictures made in this paper. Instead, we notice that the letter addressed to The Colonist was also forwarded to the evening paper. Beyond pointing to the lack of courtesy displayed, and stating that we are aware of his motives, we will not further discuss this point as it can be of little or no interest to the public.

In what we said about Alderman Todd's resolution we never questioned that its terms were in accordance with facts. In answering our criticism in that manner he is again begging the question. It was expressly stated that the objection to the raising of the issue at this time was that the City should take no action which would have the effect of impeding the negotiations of the Provincial Government with the Railway Company now that the committee presided over by Alderman Todd has failed in this matter. The city Council recognized the wisdom of The Colonist's contention and amended the resolution so as to avoid litigation. Could our attitude have been stated more clearly than as folows:

If anything were calculated to interfere with the advancement of the projected improvement it is the commencement of unnecessary, and possibly interminable litigation between the City and the Railway Company. The public, at this late stage, are not concerned about any added facilities for the use of the existing structure. The inconvenience they have suffered has extended over years, and if the City feels it has rights which have not been enforced, the time for taking advantage of these is certainly not at the moment when a new bridge has become an imperative necessity.

We can assure Alderman Todd that we have no fear that a company like the Canadian Pacific Railway will take any spiteful measure against the city, no matter what action he is instrumental in bringing about. The suggestion is unworthy of a member of the Council. In what has been said about the resolution by this paper only one point was sought to be made. That was that the City, at a time when it was handing over its case for the construction of the new Johnson Street bridge to the Provincial Government, should not becloud the issue and handicap the Government in the negotiations which the latter will have to commence with the interested parties. The issue raised by Alderman Todd might, with far greater force, have been raised at any time other than the present, within the last thirty years. That he should have seen fit to do so at this juncture is greatly to be deplored. The action savors of a petty act of revenge because his negotiations with the E. & N. Railway Company were unsuccessful.

AN ISLAND CAMP

Whatever reasons may have existed for the establishment of a Summer training camp for the Vancouver Island troops have disappeared with the dispatch overseas of two of the units it was proposed to include in the establishment, coupled with the fact that the 103rd Battalion is holding itself in readiness for an immediate departure. The 102nd and the 11th C. M. R. Battalions have left the Island, the 103rd is preparing to go and the only Island troops who remain to go into a camp, such as that suggested, are the recruited for the 143rd Battalion and the Yukon detachment, about 150 strong. It has been suggested that the 231st Battalion (600 strong) should be brought over from Vancouver, in which case the strength of the troops in camp would be approximately 1,400.

What possible excuse exists for the expense involved in the establishment of a new camp for this number of troops, and what military reasons can there be for this decision on the part of the authorities? We say without fear of contradiction that no good reasons can be advanced for the new camp. On the contrary, the most forcible objections exist why it should not be established. If the troops are moved from here and Vancouver their programme of recruiting will be checked. Barracks upon which considerable sums of money have been expended will be allowed to lie idle for many months to come. From an economic standpoint there are no advantages in the removal of the troops from Victoria and Vancouver. The expense of transportation, the cost of establishing the new camp and the cost of keeping up the flow of supplies there are an idle expenditure unless it can be shown that some commensurate advantage is to ensue.

We would be the last to question any military expenditures that are necessary at a time like the present, but we have the right, and would be recreant to our duty to the public if we did not raise a voice of protest against the useless waste of public funds. The military authorities cannot adduce any sufficient reasons why some 1,400 men are to be placed in an Island camp at a time when all the energies of the units concerned are bent upon recruiting, and their only chance of reaching full strength is through the facilities afforded by their presence in centres of population. This consideration held sway with the authorities at the time the troops were being moved to Vernon. There is no parallel between the camp at the latter point and that proposed in the vicinity of Sidney, for the simple reason that the presence of from 5,000 to 6,000 men at the same point affords possibilities of brigade training, whereas the assembling of 1,400 men has no such advantage.

Colonel Ogilvie, when he was D.O.C., opposed the idea for an Island camp. He failed to see what its advantages would be and that was at a time when it would have been possible to assemble an infantry brigade under canvas. How much more unnecessary is the project now that two of the units concerned have left the Island and a third is under orders for overseas service? We say emphatically this is no time for the useless expenditure of money. The 143rd and the 231st Battalions can be trained admirably at their present locations and can continue their recruiting campaign uninterruptedly. Whoever is responsible for the decision to establish a camp near Sidney was ill-advised. Before any further money is idly wasted on the project the decision should be rescinded.

MAKES POSITION CLEAR

Apropos of the City Council discussion of the pavement contracts of 1911 a letter was received at last night's meeting from Mr. H. M. Fullerton, who was a member of the council of that year. It follows:

"Victoria, B. C., June 26, 1916.

"To His Worship the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen of the City of Victoria.

"Gentlemen—Having been a member of the Board of Aldermen of this city in the year 1911, I was naturally called upon to decide and to vote as to the description of pavement which would be best for the city; as to the calling for tenders and as to the method of awarding the contract. First, as to the description of pavement: After full investigation and in accordance with the advice of the city engineer, backed up by every standard work of reference, and by every engineer of standing who has written on the subject of pavements, the council of 1911 decided to adopt a concrete base asphalt pavement made and laid—according to the specifications approved by the Society of Civil Engineers.

"Pressure, persuasion and argument of every kind and nature were resorted to in order to obtain the adoption of patent and special process pavements, but in view of the disastrous results to municipalities using them the decision of the council to insist on a standard specification was the only businesslike course to adopt.

"Second, as to the calling for tenders: It was decided by the council of 1911 to publicly call for tenders, from all contractors willing to bid, without any restriction as to place of residence, and every applicant was given equal facilities and information.

"Third, as to the method of awarding the contracts: It was decided by the council to award the tender to the lowest bidder, and this was done throughout the year with every contract let. There was absolutely no juggling of figures or splitting up of work. The company making the lowest bid got the work in fair open competition.

"Now I claim no credit and assume no responsibility save as an individual member of the board acting according to my best judgment, but I want to direct your attention to a few salient facts.

"As a result of the action taken in 1911 the City of Victoria has obtained what is conceded by every engineer and every practical man who has examined it to be the finest system of pavement existing in any city of Canada or the United States at a cost over 20 per cent lower than the next lowest price of constructing a system of pavement. After four years of service the work has been thoroughly tried out and is good. There is not, and cannot be, any suggestion that anyone made any unreasonable profit out of the city, as the cost of laying a pavement on standard specifications is easily computed.

"The only people dissatisfied are those who had special process or patent pavements to sell.

"The necessity of meeting their attacks is disgraceful to me but I met them in an investigation in 1911 and will meet them again whenever necessary, and will be able to demonstrate that the council of 1911 protected the interests of the city in insisting on the standard specification and in awarding contracts only by public competition and to the lowest bidder, and that the best possible work was procured at the lowest possible price.

"H. M. FULLERTON."

LIEUT. AUSTIN ACQUITTED

United States Commissioner Decides That Evidence Against Canadian Officer Is Insufficient

SEATTLE, June 26.—The charge against Lieut. Ernest Austin, of the Canadian army, who was arrested by Federal agents on Friday night on a charge of trying to enlist men for the Canadian army in violation of the United States neutrality laws, was dismissed today by United States Commissioner R. W. McClelland, before whom Austin was given a preliminary hearing.

Commissioner McClelland ruled that the Government had not produced sufficient evidence to warrant holding Lieut. Austin for the grand jury.

VANCOUVER ISLAND

The Rev. L. A. Todd, of Tofino, has been visiting Port Alberni.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wallis, of Port Alberni, have been visiting Victoria.

Mrs. A. Fleming has returned to her home at Port Alberni, after visiting Calgary.

A nurses' home is being built at the West Coast General Hospital, at Port Alberni. The contract was awarded to Mr. E. Exton, of Port Alberni.

The Chinese theatrical troupe of thirty members which has been entertaining people from Ladysmith to Cumberland for the last month has gone to Vancouver for a holiday.

Mrs. Arthur Harbridge, of Port Alberni, has received word that her husband has been missing since June 1. He went to the front with the Princess Pats when war broke out.

Mr. George M. Reid, of Port Alberni, who went to England with the 62nd Battalion, was one of the highest scorers at a recent battalion shoot in England, when he won a marksman's badge. His score was 148.

The editor of The Sidney Review wants to meet the reporters of the Victoria newspapers who are "responsible for writing up these knocks" on the Sidney military camp, "which is the best for the purpose ever seen."

Nanaimo City Council is going ahead with the construction of the new steel Millstream bridge. The contract was let last week to Mr. A. W. Mesher, of Nanaimo, for the construction of the concrete piers at a cost of $1,945.

Two and one-half per cent of the proceeds of the Alexandra Rose Day held by the Bastion Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, in Nanaimo, on June 10, goes to the children's homes and hospitals in England.

Although many persons have complained about spoiling a beautiful scenic point, the Sidney Board of Trade has decided against taking official action to prevent the establishment of a fish cannery on Roberts Point.

Nothing yet has been seen of the body of Carl Nelson who went out canoeing last week, and was drowned in the Alberni Canal. He was 30 years old, and, in partnership with Rudolf Johnston, conducted a wood-cutting camp at China Creek.

Nimpkish River, near Alert Bay, is to be the scene of a large sawmill, to be erected for Messrs. Wilson Brothers, an American firm, with timber interests on the West Coast of the Island. The firm intends to put in a dam and develop 30,000 horse power.

Because the grounds for its shooting traps have been taken over by the military camp at Sidney, the members of the Sidney Gun Club will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Merchants' Bank Building to arrange for putting new grounds in shape. Officers will be elected.

The vestry meeting of St. Mary's and St. Stephen's Church, South Saanich, has appointed the following officers: Vicar's warden, Mr. J. M. Hedley; people's warden, Mr. Chas. White; church committee, Messrs. James Bailey, Chas. Gillan, J. W. Crawford, Geo. Spencer, H. Tanner, Mrs. Bissett, Mrs. White and Miss G. Thomson.

Before the Rev. Samuel Cook left his pastorate at the First Methodist Church, Port Alberni, last week, to come to the James Bay Methodist Church, of Victoria, he was presented with a gold cross and chain and a complimentary address by the members of his congregation. The new pastor of the Port Alberni church is the Rev. Mr. Mahwinney, of Vancouver.

When Fire Chief Forrest, of Alberni, and the members of his brigade stated to instal the large new fire bell which arrived from Vancouver last week, they found that the bell was without clapper or wheel. Notwithstanding these serious omissions, on the part of the shippers, however, the Council has decided to suspend the bell from its scaffold and make whatever use of it they can. The shippers will be paid nothing until they send the clapper and wheel.

The road from Kinross Street, Port Alberni, to connect with the Nanaimo Road at the Summit, will be rushed through this Summer, according to orders given by the Honorable Thomas Taylor, Minister of Public Works. The estimated cost is $4,000. Protests against the construction of the road have been made by the Red Cliff Lumber Company, which claims that a quantity of valuable timber will be destroyed if the road is put through.

Alberni has been able to wipe out a debt of $18,300 due the Royal Bank of Canada, with the proceeds of the sale of an issue of the city's bonds which was disposed of last month. A number of unsold debentures held by the bank have now been cancelled, which releases the city from interest and sinking fund payments thereon. There still remain outstanding a note for $3,900, borrowed by the Council from the bank last year to cover unpaid taxes. Half of this has been repaid, however.

To stop happy-go-luck methods in the switching of the water service of Alberni, the City Council has arranged for the chief constable to keep the water key in his personal charge and to let no one have it for any purpose whatever. The key has been hanging in the fire hall, and, last week, some one who wanted to see how it worked, closed a gate valve on Johnston Road. This resulted in the whole city drawing its supply from a roundabout small pipe line instead of the main pipe.

After the meeting of Sidney business men, last Monday, had decided in favor of the Saturday half-holiday, Mr. E. Blackburn, of the Sidney butchers, and Mr. J. Critchleyspoke so persuasively that the meeting reversed its decision and decided that the stores in Sidney will close only on Monday afternoon. Mr. Critchley, in a dramatic appeal, said that the great cities of the world—London, New York anl Liverpool, to mention only a few, do not have a half-holiday, and for this reason, there was no necessity for a half-holiday in Sidney. As the law demanded one half-day a week he declared himself in favor of any time except Saturday. He prophesied a dismal failure for the movement in Victoria, and could see the tradesmen of that city in a state of bankruptcy before long. He appealed to other storekeepers to give him a chance to do a little cash business on Saturday night.

The Qualicum Beach Lumber Co. and the Northwest Lumber Co., which are situated North and South, respectively, of the well known Qualicum Beach resort, have all the orders they can fill. The former is engaged in the construction of a mile of railway to enable the transportation of logs from its limits in large quantities. It also has purchased a new locomotive. Logging contractors are shipping five carloads of logs from Koksilah every day, while the Island Lumber Co. is handling between five and ten carloads a day. The Victoria Lumber Co., of Chemainus, is daily shipping between twenty and thirty-five carloads from Cowichan Lake. The New Ladysmith Lumber Co. is engaged both in production and development. It is constructing three miles of railway from the mill at old Wellington to the new limits, making a logging road six miles in length. The Hilliers Saw Mill, also, is in operation again. All this work is rendered possible because of the increased demand for lumber in the Northwest.

Because all except two of the Port Alberni aldermen had gone off on more of less extended trips, there was no meeting of the City Council, last week.

BUSINESS MEN ARE ASKED TO MEETING

Food Products Committee Furthers Plans for Luncheon With Representatives of Island Boards of Trade

Realizing that the agricultural status of the country is of general interest to the public and that their co-operation must be secured if it is to be materially improved, the Agricultural Food Products Committee of the Board of Trade has decided that the luncheon to be held on Thursday at the Empress Hotel for visiting representatives of Vancouver Island Boards of Trade will be open to all business men of the city. At the conclusion of the luncheon, a short meeting will be held in one of the adjacent rooms for the purpose of discussing the farming industry generally. In the afternoon, the delegates will be taken by members of the Food Products Committee to the Bazan Bay Experimental Station, where they will be the guests of the director, Professor Lionel Stevenson.

A meeting of the committee was held yesterday afternoon to further arrangements for the conference and excursion, and several new phases were introduced. As far as ascertained, there will be representatives from the Boards of Trade of Sidney, Nanaimo, Cumberland, Ldysmith, Courtenay, Duncan, Port Alberni, Alberni and Comox. They will arrive on the noon train, being met at the depot by members of the Food Products Committee, and taken to the Empress Hotel, where luncheon will be served at 1:45 o'clock.

The principal feature of the conference to take place afterwards will be an address by Professor W. T. McDonald, vice-chairman of the committee, who will report on what has already been accomplished and what it is intended to do in the future, the aim of the organization in a general way being to increase production and lessen the cost thereof on Vancouver Island.

Expression of Views

Representatives of the various Boards of Trade will be invited to express their views, and in this way it is hoped to secure something tangible to work on. Much difficulty has been found by the committee in getting the outlying districts of the Islands properly linked up in the movement. It is believed that by getting the local Boards of Trade in line and in support of the committee's endeavors, much good will be accomplished.

The subjects that will be touched upon in Professor McDonald's report are the dairying, fruit-growing, poultry and sheep industries. These were generally discussed at yesterday's meeting, and opinions were expressed by several practical farmers on the steps that should be taken to make more profitable these branches of husbandry.

With regard to dairying, the importance was emphasized of getting better results with the number of cattle now owned, and of securing better co-operation between producer and consumer.

Benefits Poultrymen

Mr. E. D. Reid spoke of the Egg-Marking Act and said that if local farmers would maintain a high standard in their produce they could not help benefiting from its clauses.

Councillor Borden, of Saanich, speaking of sheep-raising, said that it was one industry that could not possibly be overdone, there being a good demand for both wool and mutton.

Several new suggestions will be offered during Thursday's conference for the future operations of the committee and for the consideration of all Vancouver Island farmers who would improve their lot.

Mr. Richard Marpole, vice-president of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railroad, will be among those present. Mr. Marpole is known to have much sympathy with the movement in hand, and the importance of having the support of the railroads is fully recognized by the committee.

As the prosperity of farming on the Island affects the commercial life of the community, it is anticipated that there will be a good representation at the luncheon and conference of the business men of Victoria. Tickets may be purchased from Messrs. James Forman, G. A. Kirk, J. W. Ambery, L. A. Walker, Professor W. T. McDonald, and the Board of Trade offices.

VICTORIA UNIT AT SALONICA IS BUSY

No. 5 General Hospital Reported to Be Working to Its Full Capacity—Number of Changes in Personnel.

No. 5 General Hospital, which was mobilized in Victoria for overseas service and is now stationed at Salonica, is handling as many patients as it can accommodate, according to Pte. Frank Dunn, of that organization, in a letter to friends here. He says, in this connection:

"Last week we reached our maximum number of patients, 1,096, which is fifty-six over capacity. Most of these are sick."

"We will soon be shifting our patients into huts. A small town of huts has been erected immediately behind our camp. When completed, it will comprise quarters for several hospitals. No. 4 Canadian General is now moving over, and several Imperial Hospitals will follow as soon as they can be accommodated.

"Capt. Bonner has returned home owing to the illness of his wife. Capt. McKee, the laboratory man; Capt. Lionais, the dentist; Sisters Tripp and Playford also have been invalided to England. We have only lost one man, Pte. Chudley, who has gone to Malta to convalesce from a broken leg, which he sustained while playing football. Capt. Lionais is a Montreal man, who was attached to us. We now have attached to us for rations and living quarters Col. Purvis-Stewart, one of the greatest living authorities on mental cases, and Miss Wilson, matron-in-chief for the Salonica medical services."

"I have visited the Serbian camp several times, and found the Serbs, both officers and men, very hospitable and accommodating. They are fine, manly fellows, and in good shape considering the experiences they have been through. They are being fitted out by the British and French."

The writer concludes with reference to the weather conditions as follows:

"Thunder and lightning storms are quite common in this country, and they are something wonderful to experience. Those we have at home would compare with them as a pop gun does to a fifteen-inch gun. We had one the other night. The thunder crashed and roared right over our heads making such a tremendous noise that it was impossible to hear one another speak. Sometimes it broke in one earthshaking clap, sometimes with a prolonged ripping, slashing sound, and again it volleyed forth like an infinite number of machine guns in action all at once. The lightning which accompanied it was a thing of startling beauty. It appeared across the clouds in twisting, writhing blood-red streaks, lighting up the night with a blinding flash, and giving to the bordering sky a pinkish and gorgeous luminosity. All the while the rain came down in torrents. Some of the fellows, who were sleeping in dug-outs, were so unfortunate as to have the walls undermined by the rain, cave in on them."

PTES. ALLAN KERR AND ALLAN FRASER.
Two Victoria boys who left with the Ambulance Corps on August 25, 1915. They are at present in Number 5 General Hospital, Salonica. A part of Pte. Fraser's letter reads: "I suppose you heard of the zeppelin raid we had here? It was certainly a grand sight to see it falling, and when it struck the ground it burst into flames. A number of the boys were over to see it and got a large number of souvenirs. We had the busiest week since we have been in the hospital, altogether there were 1,100 patients in at one time, so you can see that this is like a little city."

VICTORIAN WRITES OF PETEWAWA CAMP

Gunner Victor Fawcett and Other Men From This City Undergoing Training for Active Service.

A letter was received yesterday from Gunner Victor Fawcett by his father, Mr. Edgar Fawcett. He left with the 63nd Battery, 15th Brigade, which left Victoria on May 28th. The letter gives a graphic description of their experiences at Petewawa Camp, where they are now stationed.

"We have now settled down to training in earnest, and it is certainly a great change from what we had on Macaulay Plains. The camp is a great sight with its lines of tents in every direction, and they are increasing every day, as the new units arrive. Things are arranged differently here to what they were at home. Ed and I went down to the Ottawa River for a swim the other evening, and it was as cold as ice, but we managed to get in and have a wash (about our only chance of getting a bath). It certainly felt good to get into some clean clothes after being a week in a dirty train.

"The Y. M. C. A. here is a great help, as you can go over there to the canteen they are running and get fruit, ice cream and other small things which are a welcome change from our rations which are strictly plain and small. They have two large tents, one for the canteen and the other for writing, and a reading room with a piano, and, as there are some splendid players and singers amongst us, it is quite a change to sit and rest, and listen to the music.

"Last evening we went into the bush and cut a lot of small pine branches, and put them on the floor of our tent, so that we have one of the best tents in the camp.

"Last Thursday I was picked, with ten other boys, to form the Battery Commander's party, formed for the purpose of finding the range of the guns and many other things preparatory to going into action. The party signallers, two telephonists, two pencillers and four horse holders. I do not know what I shall be yet, as we have not been told off for any special duty, but are all learning together how to work the field telephone, which is a very interesting instrument.

"There are any number of wild strawberries and blueberries around here, so that in another two weeks we will be able to have some great feeds. It will be a change to get some fresh fruit from the bushes."

GNR. SAMUEL MABLING
One of the many Victorians who left with the 16th Brigade, C. F. A., on active service. He was in the employ of the Circulation Department of The Colonist.

Referring to the work of the Y. M. C. A. dealt with in his son's letter as above, Mr. Edgar Fawcett writes to The Colonist as follows:

"My object in submitting this letter is mainly to say a good word for the Y. M. C. A., one of our most beneficial institutions, one that deserves more than it gets. It will be seen by this letter from Petewawa Camp, that the Y. M. C. A. is established there, and God be thanked for it! Not only is it there to do all the good it can, but all the small surrounding towns are declared out of bounds, thus shutting out pleasures (?) that would be likely to undo the good work done by the Y. M. C. A. It is on the subject of the Y. M. C. A. I would say a few words.

"Within the last year death carried off in this city a man whom I had known and liked, having known him from early manhood. He died worth a million and a half, all of which he accumulated in this city and Province, and from small beginnings. Knowing him as long I felt interested in knowing how he had disposed of this large sum, and, in my mind, I disposed of it all as among the various deserving charitable institutions in this city. It was not not long before I heard to my great disappointment the following story: While the Y.M.C.A. building was in course of erection here some few years ago certain gentlemen who were collecting for that object waited on the deceased pioneer, knowing, as they did, that he was a wealthy man without any family, who had lived here so many years (over fifty). After hearing the object of their visit he declined giving them anything. He did not think he owed them anything, and had received nothing from them in any way. I understand a distant relative in Australia or England got nearly all of this large sum of money, which, if divided among our public institutions and charities would have done so much good. It was only right that part of such a large sum should have been spent in the city where it was produced. No one can deny he did just what he had a legal right to do, with his own, but had he a moral right? I think not. To put it mildly, I was disappointed with my former friend, and hope in the future his example will not be followed by any other pioneer.

EDGAR FAWCETT."

FIRST FLIGHT OF VICTORIA AVIATOR

Weather at Toronto Has Not Been Suitable for Flying—Tells of Sensations of the Beginner.

A letter was received on Saturday from Mr. Norman Hall, son of Dr. G. A. B. Hall, telling of his first experience in an aeroplane. He left here about three weeks ago to attend the aviation school at Toronto. He writes:

"Well, I had my first aeroplane ride today. It was great. I would have been up sooner only there was not a machine up all last week on account of the bad weather. One day it would rain and the next blow. Yesterday was nice but it took all the day to dry the field. There is one boy attending the school here who has been through the different schools, at Ithaca, Dayton, New York, and down South in Georgia, and he thinks this is the best school. At the school this year they are starting the pupils on the land machines. Last year they tried starting on the water but did not prove a success. The reason is that the land machines have a 90 horse-power motor and can go seventy-five miles per hour, and are extremely sensitive to control. This year they are going to spend nearly all their time on the land machines and only a short time on the water because anyone who can land and start on land can easily do it on water.

"I am in Harry Webster's class and consider myself extremely lucky. It is the first time he has been instructing in Toronto, but he has four years' experience in flying and he is a fine fellow. Last Winter the Curtiss people had him working in the factory as assistant inspector, and all the mechanics say that he was the best man they had around the factory. All the students think a lot of him and many who haven't him say they wish they had as he is considered a safe flyer. Every morning he looks over the machines to see if there is anything loose or broken. Many of the fellows laugh at him, but he says that he will be flying long after lots of these pilots are buried. We attend lectures every day given by aviators of the Royal Flying Corps; this is so that when we get to England our course there will not be so long as other Canadians who had to take all that over there.

"Webster says that it is best not to think about learning too quickly. It took him six months to learn; of course that was quite a time ago and the machines have been improved since then. Each time we go up we spend about fifteen to twenty minutes actually in the air. Today it was just a joy-ride for me as all I had to do was to sit and watch the controls as he moved them. The machines are dual controlled, that is two controls, one for the pupil and one for the pilot. We were up twenty minutes although it seemed much longer and he took me up 2,800 feet. I was not the least bit afraid and certainly enjoyed it. It sure has automobiling beat off the map. The pupil sits in the front seat, back of the engine and the instructor in the rear of the pupil. When the engine is started it makes some noise. At first you run along the ground and you cannot notice it leave the ground; the first thing you know you look down and see the ground far beneath you. I have never driven in anything as steady as an aeroplane; you cannot notice how fast you are going, except that the wind rushes against your face at a great rate. The funniest sensation of all is when you make the spiral, that is when you come down in the shape of a spiral, and sometimes you are coming straight down with the front of the machine pointing towards the ground. They do not do this very often, but generally the first time to see if it will scare you or make you sick. I did not mind it a bit; in fact I rather enjoyed it.

"Another advantage in going to this school is that the machines are controlled with standard control, that is the control used by all the Allies' airmen, while the machines in the States have different controls, which is not as satisfactory.

"I don't think that I have ever seen such a fine bunch of boys as those at the school; they are so friendly and nice, especially those staying at this boarding house. Of those staying here are Cecil Clayton, of Victoria, a boy from Sherbrook, Quebec, one from Montreal, Ottawa, and others from Sudbury and St. Mary's, Ont., and from Saskatchewan. So you see that they are from all over the map."

MEN'S PAY SUBJECT OF OFFICIAL NOTE

Militia Department Issues Statement Explaining Why Soldiers Are Restricted in Their Home Assignments.

The Militia Department has issued a statement regarding the pay of men of the C. E. F., which follows:

"Some comment has been caused by a recent order-in-council limiting to twenty days pay, the amount of pay which a soldier should be permitted to assign. In some quarters this has been criticised and it has been stated in the Western press that a deputation intends to go from Winnipeg to Ottawa to ask for the rescinding of this order-in-council. It is not at all likely that such a deputation would succeed in its purpose.

"A private soldier is paid $1 a day, with an allowance which brings his pay up to $1.10 a day, or $33 a month of thirty days. His wife gets from the Government a separation allowance of $20 a month and in addition a portion of his pay which he assigns to her. Hitherto the soldier has been allowed to assign as much as he chose and many assigned almost all of their earnings. Inconvenience followed, and a short time ago it was represented by the militia authorities overseas that men who had assigned more than twenty days' pay of their rank did not leave themselves enough money, and often got into financial difficulties, owing to their generosity. Accordingly, the order-in-council was passed limiting the assignment to twenty days' pay.

Assignments

"If a soldier in England assigns twenty days, this amounts in a month of thirty days to $20. This leaves him $13 and this sum is paid to the man for himself. While much is provided for him, there are many necessaries which he must procure out of his own pocket. Apart from the buying of common conveniences, such as newspapers, writing materials, etc., if he is left with no money he can not avail himself of the leave which from time to time is allowed him to visit places of interest, and so he is confined to the barracks or camp at all times. It is felt that $13 a month is not an excessive amount to allow a man. If he is of opinion that his relatives should have more, he can save it and send it home. The point of view of the authorities is that a soldier should be allowed to spend some of his own money."

Officers and men of the 103rd Battalion, having received orders which presage their departure at an early date, are anxious to close all their outstanding accounts. Merchants and others affected are asked to take the necessary steps to obtain settlements without delay.

Schools of Infantry, and for such purpose enlist in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, should they fail to qualify may, if they desire it, be discharged from the C. E. F."

Sergeant E. Mitten, 6th Regt. D.C.O.R., will be attached to No. 6 Station R.C.H. whilst employed on instructional duty at the R. S. I., Esquimalt, B. C., with effect from the 19th June, 1916.

Lieut. Joseph Fell, of the 103rd Battalion, C. E. F., has been promoted to the rank of captain.

Cpl. C. L. Haworth, a brother of Mr. C. L. Haworth, of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Co., has written from "somewhere in France," stating that he is recovering from shell shock sustained in action and is engaged in Y.M.C.A. work at the front until able to again become a combatant. He observes that his experience as an entertainer will help him in contributing to the happiness of his fellow soldiers.

Commanding officers of Eastern units are experiencing much trouble with the parents of boys under age who enlisted early last Winter. These boys swore in their attestation that they were old enough to enlist. The parents permitted them to draw Government pay all Winter, but now the Summer is here, and work plentiful, with good prospects of good pay, parents are demanding the discharge of their sons, and commanding officers have no choice in the matter, once the fact is established that a boy wearing khaki is a minor.

There is one remedy, however, which commanding officers have in the cases of boys who swear falsely on being attested, and that is, to hand them over to the civil authorities for perjury.

The present method of physical drill and bayonet fighting is by no means new, nor are they the product of the present war. The physical drill with its novel 'quickening' movements, has been borrowed from the Swedes, who have used the method for many years. The present system of bayonet fighting has been in use in England for the past ten years.

Steamer Prentiess Sails

Bound for Puget Sound ports with cricket and passengers, the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Prentiess sailed at the Outer Wharf, at 11 o'clock, yesterday morning, and after unloading a small consignment of perishables and a number of passengers, she left again at 1:30. The Prentiess had no less than six newly-wed couples aboard, all the brides, of course, being young and charming.

PROBLEMS OF B. C.

Dr. Scott in Farewell Sermons Gives His Opinions on Our Great Social Questions

Dr. C. T. Scott, in his farewell sermons in the Methodist Metropolitan Church on Sunday night, dealt with some of the great problems of the Coast which he has tried to understand during his four years' pastorate here. His study of the Oriental question, he said, has led him to the conclusion that the duty of the church is to assist in requiring that the Anglo-Saxon form of civilization and sanitary and moral conditions be imposed on the Orientals who come to these shores. He said the Chinese and others from across the Pacific should not be allowed to build and perpetuate slum conditions here. If this were done only the desirable types of Orientals would remain and the whole problem would solve itself.

Coming to the Socialist agitations on the Coast he declared that while the Christian church is sympathetic in the main with the programme of Socialism, Christianity does not believe in levelling down, but in levelling up. Dr. Scott said he deplored the spirit too common here of despising work and looking upon it as a form of slavery instead of life's greatest privilege and life's greatest joy. He declared the church should get behind the temperance movement in British Columbia.

Members of Dr. Scott's congregation will tender him a farewell tonight in the schoolroom of the church, when he will give his farewell address. With his family, he leaves for his new charge at Belleville, Ont., at the first of next week.

Premier Back at Week-End—Premier Bowser and party, who have been making a tour of the upper portion of the Province for the past two weeks, are expected to arrive back in Victoria on Saturday. On Friday they will arrive at Ashcroft, where Premier Bowser will speak, and on Saturday morning they will reach Vancouver.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Speedy Trial Fixed—Moses B. Cotsworth, charged with putting "O.H.M.S." on envelopes with intent to defraud the Government, elected for speedy trial before Judge McInnes on Saturday at Vancouver. July 4 was the date fixed.

Successful Pupils—In the recent musical examination of the Associated Board of the R. A. M. and R. C. M., the following pupils of Miss Archbutt were were successful: Primary grade, Marjorie Judd and Leonard Johnston; elementary grade, Muriel Johnston, Marguerite Elizabeth Genn; higher division, Margaret Frances Hewett.

B. C.'s Timber Resources—The British Trade Journal for June contains an interesting article dealing with the timber wealth of British Columbia, and describing briefly the leading species. Reference is made to the large market in prospect for the timber of the Province, and to the action taken by the Provincial Government to foster the industry.

Paying All Bills—The officers of the 103rd Battalion, which is leaving for overseas shortly, are now making out cheques for all bills incurred by the battalion. As they are anxious to have all obligations paid before they leave the city, they have sent out the request that all bills be sent in at once to the Battalion Orderly Room, Willows, Victoria.

Tourist Travel Improves—As indicating that the tourist travel to Victoria is improving, it was to be noted, yesterday, that the tallyhos, on the arrival of the Sound and Vancouver boats were well filled. Registrations at the Empress and other leading hotels are increasing daily, and the opinion prevails that, very shortly, the full inrush of Summer travel will commence in earnest.

Delayed Eastern Mail Arrives—The Eastern mail which was delayed on account of the recent washouts, arrived at the post office, yesterday. Seventy-nine bags of newspapers and thirty-three bags of parcel post comprised the mail from England, which left London on June 7, and came via Montreal. There were 226 bags of newspapers from Eastern Canada, and 85 bags of newspapers from the Eastern States.

Town Planning—Delegates from various sections of British Columbia will meet in Vancouver on July 10 to discuss the question of town-planning along modern lines, and the organization of a town-planning association to handle such matters in a consulting capacity throughout the Province. Mr. Thomas Adams, town-planning adviser to the Commission of Conservation at Ottawa, will be present and address the gathering.

Inspecting Municipalities—Mr. D. W. Meyers, representing Hayden, Miller & Co., investment bond buyers, of Cleveland, spent yesterday in the city, in the course of a western tour of inspection of municipalities with regard to bond issues. While he finds a general appreciations of the need of retrenchment, there is still, at many points, a disinclination to hold tax sales in order to clear up delinquent taxation. City of Victoria issues stand high at the present, time in his opinion. His firm has handled a number of them.

Sir Rider Haggard—Col. Andrew Haggard is in receipt of a cablegram from his brother, Sir Rider Haggard, who is due at Victoria on the next incoming Australian steamer, to the effect that any arrangements which might be made for him to address a meeting of the Canadian Club must wait word which he will receive from Ottawa on his arrival here. This information was, yesterday, communicated to Mr. Frank Sehl, secretary of the Canadian Club, which wishes to entertain the distinguished traveller on his arrival here. It is understood that Mr. E. H. Scammell, of Ottawa, is en route west to meet Sir Rider Haggard.

Weekly Half-Holiday—The weekly half-holiday which the citizens have decided shall be given on Saturday will be inaugurated from July 1 (Dominion Day). The latter date is a public holiday, so that the first real application of the new law will be on Saturday, July 8. There appears to be an impression among the small shopkeepers who are without employees that the statute does not apply to them. There is a section which refers specifically to such cases, so that the belief that merchants in this position are exempt is entirely erroneous. It is understood that it is the intention of one or more of those affected to test the validity of the law.

To Repair Street—The work of repairing the pavement of Fort Street, between Harrison Street and the Oak Bay Junction, will commence today. Owing to the heavy traffic over this thoroughfare, chiefly owing to the presence of large bodies of troops at the Willows, it has been subjected to particularly heavy traffic. It also was damaged during the clearing of the snow after the heavy storm of last January. The result is that it is necessary to replace the surface along the car tracks, and the repairs are to be undertaken without further delay, as the improvement is imperatively in the public interest.

Pupils Win Success—In the recent examinations of the associated board of the Royal College of Music and Royal Academy of Music, the pupils of Miss Dorothy Tilly were successful in passing in the following grades: Pianoforte—higher division, Joyce Wilson, (St. George's Schol); elementary—Hilda Anderson, (St. George's School); primary—Janet Lang, (St. George's School); primary—Sylvia Luxton and Wilna Luxton. Grammar of Music: Division III., Alison Suttie, (St. George's School), Helen Macdonald; Division II., Joyce Wilson, (St. George's School); Sylvia Luxton, Wilna Luxton and Peggy Hodgins; Division I., Janet Lang, (St. George's School).

Charmed With Victoria—Among the numerous letters received, yesterday, by the Victoria and Island Development Association, was one from Mr. Millard Lemon, Olympia, Washington, who has been telling his friends at Olympia of the delightful trip he had on this Island, several weeks ago. The letter reads: "I have been telling my friends at Olympia of our delightful trip on the island, and you will have several visit you this Summer. If you will kindly forward me some literature on Vancouver Island I will distribute it amongst them." The Association received a letter from Commissioner Cuthbert, who has been touring Washington, giving 400 names to which literature will be sent for the purpose of advertising Victoria.

Jubilee Hospital—Donors and subscribers to the Royal Jubilee Hospital will hold their annual meeting at the City Hall this afternoon to receive the reports of the year's work and appoint representatives of the subscribers to the board. The per capita cost per day at the hospital has been kept down to a normal figure during the past twelve months and the directors will be able to show a satisfactory balance sheet. Among the matters to be taken up in the report, allusion will undoubtedly be made to the recent finding of the Grand Jury, particularly with respect to the tubercular ward. The retiring directors, who are eligible for re-election, are Mrs. Waller, Mrs. Rhodes, Mr. J. A. Mara, and Mr. A. C. Flumerfelt.

Suspected New Line—Mr. James G. Thomson, of this city, was numbered amongst a large number of transportation officials who, on Sunday last, were guests of the Milwaukee passenger department on a trip over the Olympic peninsular route by boat, rail and automobile to Piedmont, Lake Crescent. The new peninsular line was opened to passenger traffic about two weeks ago. The company was desirous of introducing passenger men of Seattle and its own employees to the new territory first hand. The party left the Coleman Dock, Seattle, by steamer at 8 a.m. and arrived at Port Townsend at 10:30 a.m. A regular passenger train connected with the boat, and at 1:35 p.m. the party reached Joyce, west of Port Angeles, where automobile stages were in waiting. The trip to the lake was made by 2:10 p.m. Returning, the party reached Port Townsend at 7:50 p.m., and arrived at Seattle at 10:30 p.m.

NAME DELEGATES TO COMING CONVENTION

Conservatives of Ward Four Enthusiastically Prepare for Contest—Speakers Discuss Good Record of Government.

Conservatives of Ward 4, under the chairmanship of Mr. C. Knox Courtney, met in the rooms of the Conservative Club, Union Bank Building, last night for organisation and to chose delegates to the city nominating convention to be held in July. Speakers dealt briefly with some of the issues in the coming campaign.

"There is no Province in this Dominion which has more reason to be satisfied with, and proud of, the general administration of its affairs than has the Province of British Columbia with its Government of the last thirteen years," said Mr. William Blakemore. Take the development of credit and transportation in this Province during the last thirteen years and compare it with any other Province in the whole of Canada and there is no parallel.

"There have been mistakes, but they are trivial compared with the good, solid work that has been done by this Conservative administration. I don't think that any Conservative who considers the record of the last thirteen years would desire to change the type of Government. I do not think there is any business man who could consider it a good business change at this time of national crisis to put in power Mr. Brewster, Mr. Macdonald, Mr. John Oliver and Mr. Ralph Smith in place of an administration such as the McBride administration which has enhanced the credit of this Province both at home and abroad. It is a political axiom that bad times kill any Government. But there is no reason why our Government here should step out if the people are satisfied with our Government they are not going to turn them out simply because of bad times.

Failed to Prove Charges

"Mr. Brewster and Mr. Macdonald went into the House to prove the Government corrupt. But after burning the midnight oil and after the longest session, but one, on record they were not able to discover the "misappropriation of one single cent by the Conservative Government. This is the one important fact with regard to the record of the Liberal leaders, and because that is what they went into the House to prove everything else, they assert, is piffle.

"The Pacific Great Eastern, the one thing over which the Opposition has been making the biggest objection, is not an issue at all. There is no Liberal who will stand on any platform and say that the Pacific Great Eastern is not a good business enterprise, which should be completed without delay in the best interests of the Province. Well, that is all this present Government proposes to do.

"The Opposition has not yet put before this country any programme of affairs that would appeal to the intelligence to the average business man."

Mr. R. W. Perry, in a snappy speech, declared that the four Liberal candidates chosen three years ago had "worn out spavins on their legs and ringbone down to their feet."

"They are fine fellows, nice gentlemen and very genial," he continued, "but if the Conservatives can't wipe out the majority of these fellows in this next election, then the Conservative party has got down to a very low ebb. I predict the Conservatives will have a majority that will surprise all of us.

"When we look at our boys doing their bit at the front don't let us forget that we at home also have our part to play in the great fight and continue the struggle here for good government."

Mr. Leonard Tait said that the party should not be too hasty in placing its candidates in the field. "I favor a short, sharp campaign," he continued. "In such a campaign you gain more than in a long drawn-out struggle."

Mr. Tait declared that any Government that had the courage to place an act such as the Workmen's Compensation Act on the statute books deserved a continuation of the confidence of the people. He pointed out that this is something the workingmen would not forget when election time came round.

Mr. G. H. Barnard, M.P., spoke of the need of organization in Ward Four. From the point of view of the candidate he declared in favor of the short campaign, and thought it a mistake to put candidates in the field too early.

Mr. Mark Sampson, the "Cornish tenor," sang during the evening.

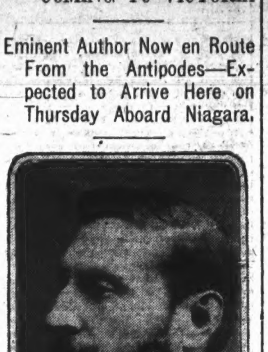

It was announced that the Victoria nominating convention will be held sometime after July 3. Delegates to represent Ward Four at this convention were chosen last night as follows: Mr. G. H. Barnard, M.P., Col. E. G. Prior, Major Walsh, Messrs. C. K. Courtney, J. M. Hughes, W. Blakemore, A. J. Warren, W. Moresby, H. W. R. Moore, R. W. Perry, Peter Campbell, E. C. Hayward, H. Cullow, Dr. Ford Verrinder, R. M. Smith, C. Wrigglesworth, Dr. A. D. Bechtel, Stewart Williams, H. B. Robertson, Dr. J. F. Grant, John Day, A. R. Graham, E. E. Wootton, Reginald Hayward, S. A. Bantley, F. Allatt, H. Bullock-Webster, J. H. B. Hickaby, T. A. Johnson, A. Lee, C. A. Lombard, W. Skillings, James Forman, E. B. Paul, Geo. Maynard, J. Foster, C. F. Davis, F. Nichols, A. Brown, J. Bently, D. Bechtel, T. Smith, R. E. Brett, N. T. Burdick, Chas. Hayward, A. C. Flumerfelt, W. H. Bone, F. Honey, J. A. Rithet and G. H. Kirk.

Alternates were chosen as follows: Col. McIlree, Messrs. F. Borrisdale, Geo. Cox, W. Appleby, F. Casleton, J. O. Graham, C. G. Leach, W. H. Grimm, A. Genn, C. H. Topp, H. E. Levy, T. Edwards, Lindley Crease, G. A. Fraser and Jos. Day.

Conservatives of Ward Two will rally tonight in the Conservative Club rooms in the Union Bank Building.

SIR RIDER HAGGARD COMING TO VICTORIA

Eminent Author Now en Route From the Antipodes—Expected to Arrive Here on Thursday Aboard Niagara.

SIR RIDER HAGGARD

Sir Rider Haggard, eminent English novelist, will arrive in Victoria on Thursday next on board the SS. Niagara, inward bound from the Antipodes.

Sir Rider, as special commissioner of the Royal Colonial Institute, is on a tour of the British overseas dominions on a mission of inquiry for the purpose of ascertaining what each Dominion contemplates doing for the returned soldiers. This information will be for the guidance of the Institute which has been studying the matter with a view to being in a position, when the war is ended, to devote its energies to keeping within the Empire the thousands of men who will undoubtedly desire to emigrate to newer lands.

Col. Andrew Haggard is in receipt of a cablegram from his brother, Sir Rider, to the effect that any arrangements which might be made for him to address a meeting of the Canadian Club must wait word which he will receive from Ottawa on his arrival here. This information was yesterday communicated to Mr. Frank Sehl, secretary of the Canadian Club, which wishes to entertain the distinguished traveler on his arrival here. It is understood that Mr. E. H. Scammell, of Ottawa, is en route West to meet Sir Rider Haggard.

BELIEVED KILLED

Pioneer F. R. Stafford Reported Missing, but Thought to Have Made Supreme Sacrifice for Empire

PIONEER F. R. STAFFORD
Believed Killed in Action.

Pioneer Ernest Rowland Stafford, reported missing on June 13 and believed to have been killed in action, was a son of Pte. F. N. Stafford, of the 103rd Battalion.

He left here on June 25, 1915, with the 48th Battalion, which went on to France as the 3rd Pioneer Corps. He was born at Choppington, Northumberland, England, twenty-four years ago last February and served his time in the engineering business for two years with Messrs. C. A. Parsons & Co., turbine works, Heaton, Newcastle-on-Tyne, where his father was for some five years employed as traffic and transport foreman.

Pioneer Stafford entered the service of the C. P. R. engineering shops at Lethbridge, and was in that city for about three and a half years before coming on to join his father on the Coast. He worked for a while at the Navy Yard and later for the city. Then he joined the C. P. R. passenger boat service as steward and was with it until he enlisted with the 48th.

He leaves, besides his father and brother-in-law, Sgt. F. Chapman, cousin; C.Q.M.S. J. W. Raylinson, of the 103rd Battalion; three uncles and thirteen cousins, who are serving with the Imperial forces.

Pioneer Stafford was well known in local football circles, having played with the Furresters and C. P. R. teams. He is survived by his father, mother, three sisters, brother and other more distant relatives.

ROSE DAY WILL HELP LOCAL INSTITUTIONS

Victorians Expected to Make Liberal Response to Appeal to Be Issued Tomorrow by Daughters of the Empire.

Eight of the most deserving charitable institutions of Victoria will be financially assisted by Alexandra Rose Day, which is being held tomorrow under the auspices of the Daughters of Empire. Every effort is being made to make the event a gala one in every sense. The indications are that the most sanguine hopes of its promoters will be realized to the full. If the weather man is kind there will be nothing to interfere with the attainment of a signal success.

The following are the institutions that will be benefited by the contributions made tomorrow: The Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, the B.C. Protestant Orphanage, the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Day Nursery and the Refuge Home.

During the past year a considerable portion of the money that otherwise might have been donated to the funds of those deserving institutions has been diverted to other channels for war work. As a natural consequence, their financial conditions are not so healthy as they might be, and the pecuniary aid they will receive through the sale of roses, and other money-making schemes arranged for tomorrow, will be exceedingly welcome. Victorians are asked to bear in mind that they can not give their money to a more worthy cause than that of local charities, especially those that are being helped on Alexandra Rose Day. With the knowledge that what they give will materially assist the eight institutions enumerated, it is hoped that the event will receive the generous patronage that it merits.

As Annual Event

Much as the committee would like to include on its list of beneficiaries all of the charitable institutions of the city, it was realised that by so doing the funds that would accrue to each organization would be curtailed. It is intended to make Alexandra Rose Day in Victoria a permanent annual institution, and next year a different selection of beneficiaries will be made, so that eventually the benefit will be equally distributed.

The selling of roses will take place in all parts of the city under the direction of the Municipal Chapter of the Daughters of Empire, which is to have its headquarters during the day at the Bantams' recruiting office, corner of Broad and View Streets. Depots are being established in all parts of the business section, and at each depot there will be a bevy of young ladies to vend the flowers to passersby. Every chapter of the I.O.D.E. will take part, and they will have their depots as follows:

Camosun Chapter, Belmont Building.
Gonzales Chapter, Rogers' old candy store, Government Street.
Florence Nightingale Chapter, Hill's Place, Yates Street.
Lady Douglas Chapter, Union Bank Building, View Street.
Agnes Deans Cameron Chapter, Messrs. George Powell & Co., Chemainus, Government Street.
Navy League Chapter, Kirkham's Cash Grocery.
Esquimalt Chapter, old Tea Kettle Tea Rooms.
Willows Camp Chapter, junior chapters, Jackson's Drug Store, old location on Douglas Street, and Mesteldine Piano House, Yates Street.

The finance committee will have its quarters for the day in the offices opposite The Colonist, formerly occupied by the Patriotic Aid Society campaign committee.

For a Good Cause

People who do not come into the city tomorrow may send their contributions to the treasurer, Mrs. H. A. S. Morley, 733 Fort Street, where they will be gladly received.

The Red and Blue Cross Flower Guild has put its own interests aside for the day, and will assist and co-operate with the Alexandra Rose Day workers.

Arrangements are now pending for a big military parade through the streets during the afternoon. Many other features have also been provided for. The Alexandra Club will be open to the public, and luncheon and tea will be served there during the day. In the evening an elaborate vaudeville entertainment and band concert is to be held at Government House, the grounds of which have been thrown open through the courtesy of the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Barnard.

Among the floral designs that have been produced and will be on sale during Rose Day are garlands suitable for the decoration of motor cars and store windows, some of the latter having already been draped with roses in honor of the occasion.

Roses are to be used in every conceivable scheme of decoration, and all citizens are asked to do what they can towards making Victoria tomorrow literally a city of roses.

PRESBYTERIAN PICNIC

Five hundred persons attended the annual outing and picnic of the First Presbyterian Church at Goldstream, Saturday. The children of the Sunday School went out on the 9 o'clock train, while a special train for members of the congregation was run at 1:30 o'clock. A special train brought the excursion party back to the city at 7:30 o'clock last night.

A programme of sports was run off on the lawn of the Goldstream Hotel, while refreshments were served in the pavilion. Mrs. Miller, of the Hotel, supplied the hot water and furnished every convenience for the party. The following committee had charge of the refreshments and sports: Mr. H. B. Maclean, Mrs. Barr, Mrs. D. Smith, Mr. James Walker, Mr. A. E. Forman, Mr. P. McKechnie, Mr. A. McKeechie and Mr. R. O. Jamieson. The Rev. John Gibson Inkster, pastor of the church, was general master of ceremonies.

DEPARTURE OF 11TH C.M.R.

Royal Victoria Is Showing Views Illustrating "Send-Off" to Battalion

The Royal Victoria is showing as an added attraction all this week the departure of the 11th C.M.R. from this city on Tuesday. The views show the regiment marching down Fort Street, also scenes on the wharf and leaving on the boat.

The feature film, "Samson," with William Farnum in the leading role, is a tense drama of love, finance and revenge that keeps one in poignant suspense waiting for the developments. The great art of suspense on which Bernstein is so particularly a master and which is, after all, the life of the drama, was never more strangely shown than in "Samson." The whole is intensely dramatic and works to a climax such as only Bernstein can write.

A good comedy and a Pathe Gazette finish off a programme that is excellent from start to finish.

GRAND OPERA HEADS NEW PANTAGES BILL

La Scala Sextette Covers Wide Range of Standard Compositions—Harry Breen in Tremendous Comedy Hit

From the sublime to the r'diculous is the range of an exceptionally good bill at the Pantages Theatre this week. Both extremes were represented by headline acts last night. Splendid music and refreshing comedy are the outstanding features of the offering.

A group of opera singers, every one of them is an artist, is the headline attraction, not only on the bill, but by the unequivocal vote of last night's audiences. They style themselves the La Scala Sextette. It was a happy idea to have staged this act as a social dinner gathering in an elegant apartment in keeping with the powder-and-patches style of costuming, which is again in absolute accord with the programme of excerps from grand opera which they presented. The arrangement of the number showed thoughtful selection. They passed from one to another with a pleasing absence of the usual heavy orchestral introductions. The concerted effects, which were notable for harmony of the voices, were a delight and though not a word of English was uttered throughout the entire offering, the wrapt attention of the audiences last night showed how entirely they had surrendered themselves to the presentation. With the first bars of the "Marseillaise," with which the sextette closed their part of the bill, the pent up emotions broke forth in a wave of applause which continued throughout the singing. It was a tremendous reception of grand opera in vaudeville. This is without doubt one of the most delightful acts that have ever appeared in this city.

The programme the La Scala Sextette offered last night included "Brindisy," from the opera "Ermani;" the "Torredore Song," from "Carmen;" "Il Bacio," Arditi's brilliant "Kiss Waltz," sung most acceptably by Signora Bianci, an excellent coloratura soprano; "The Sextette," from "Lucia," and selections from "Faust," which included the "Soldiers' Chorus" and the trio from the last act.

How Harry Breen managed last night to say all he had to say in the time allotted to his act was the big mystery of the evening's entertainment. He says he is thankful for the ability to make people laugh. On that basis he has a lot to be thankful for. His comedy was clean and refreshing and had a decided flavor of novelty. His closing selection was a riot which had the appearance of being entirely impromptu. He should have been exceedingly pleased with his reception.

The Five Florimonds are experts on the unsupported ladders and have an especially clever and entertaining offering. Three good violinists and a harpist compose the Venetian Four. Their numbers were very well received. May and Billy Carr had a lot of entertaining songs and patter, and Howard, Johnson and Lisette were very good acrobats and entertainers. The tenth installment of the "Iron Claw" offered the usual quota of thrills.

PROPOSED INQUIRY TOO INQUISITORIAL

Ald. R. Porter Objects to Ald. Todd's Proposed Investigation of Council Members' Qualifications for Office.

When Ald. A. E. Todd's resolution calling for an investigation into the estate of every member of the City Council, with a view to ascertaining whether all were properly qualified when elected, had been continuously so ever since, and now are in that position, came before that body last night the warm discussion which some predicted and which was generally anticipated, failed to develop. In fact what happened must have constituted a disappointing anti-climax to many of the spectators who crowded the chamber and who, self-confessedly, were out to see the "fun."

Ald. Todd was very brief in his comments. The motion spoke for itself and he moved accordingly.

Ald. Dilworth seconded it but thought it should be laid on the table for two weeks.

Ald. Porter did not understand the motion. What was the purpose? Was the idea to ascertain what property each member of the council had qualified on and what he had in addition? That looked to him like ——(the alderman hesitated).

A detective agency? suggested Ald. Bell.

Ald. Porter—Yes; or an examination for discovery in a legal action. (Laughter.)

The city solicitor said that what was asked for was information as to what the members had qualified on, what property was held now, and what those affected had held continuously ever since. He pointed out that the obtaining of certificates from the registrar covering the entire period would involve considerable expense.

Ald. Porter thought that the onus of responsibility should be on the members of the council to prove that they were and had been qualified. They could prepare information proving their position and submit it to the proper officials for verification. That they should be ordered to give an account of their private affairs in detail, he thought, unwarranted. It also was to be remembered that anyone who sat without the legal qualification rendered himself liable to a severe fine. Under the circumstances he hardly believed that anyone in a doubtful position would take the chance. He moved, therefore, that the procedure he outlined be adopted in lieu of Ald. Todd's motion.

Ald. Todd, however, was not satisfied with the amendment. It did not provide for the obtaining of the information he sought. There was no objection, however, to laying the resolution on the table for two weeks, and in the meantime it was possible that wording could be devised that would meet with the approval of all parties.

THE MINISTER'S DUTY

Rev. J. B. Warnicker Preaches Farewell Sermon at First Baptist Church

The farewell service of the Rev. J. B. Warnicker, at the First Baptist Church in the Dominion Theatre, Sunday night, was featured with three violin solos by Prof. Gregor Cherniavsky. He played "Souvenir de Moscow," by Wieniawski, a melody by Tschaikowsky, and a waltz by Wieniawski.

Rev. Mr. Warnicker spoke on the duty of the minister. "What is the great official today?" he asked. "He is a great servant, one who ministers wisely. No man should consider himself exempt from service to his fellows. The refusal of a service is disastrous for the man who refuses, who prefers to consider himself exempt from bearing any cross. There is today too much concentration on the desire to have 'a good time,' to evade life's responsibilities. A country is not great because of its population, but because of the character of its men of great soul."

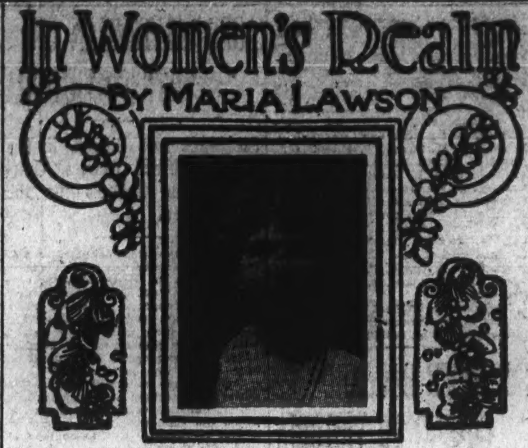

Mr. Warnicker has been pastor of the First Baptist Church for the last seven years. He will remain in Victoria for some time.

In Women's Realm

BY MARIA LAWSON

QUEEN OF SPAIN

Kitchener's March

Not the muffled drums for him
Nor the wailing of the fife;
Trumpets blaring to the charge
Were the music of his life.
Let the music of his death
Be the feet of marching men;
Let his heart a thousandfold
Take the field again!

Of his patience, of his calm,
Of his quiet faithfulness,
England, raise your hero's cairn!
He is worthy of no less.
Stone by stone, in silence laid,
Singly, surely, let it grow.
He, whose living was to serve,
Would have had it so.

There's a body drifting down,
For the mighty deep to keep;
There's a spirit cannot die,
While a heart is left to leap.
In the land he gave his all,
Steel alike to praise and hate,
He has saved the life he spent—
Death has struck too late.

Not the muffled drums for him,
Nor the wailing of the fife;
Trumpets, blaring to the charge,
Were the music of his life.
Let the music of his death
Be the feet of marching men;
Let his heart, a thousandfold,
Take the field again!

—Amelia Josephine Barr, in N. Y. Outlook.

The Queen of Spain

Three of the grand-daughters of Queen Victoria share the thrones of the kings of neutral countries. The Queen of Norway is a daughter of King Edward, the Queen of Roumania is Prince Alfred's child, and Princess Beatrice, the youngest daughter of the revered Queen, is the mother of Queen Victoria of Spain. Her father, Prince Henry, of Battenberg, died many years ago, while serving in the British army on the West Coast of Africa.

The English princess was a beautiful and attractive girl. Her marriage to the Spanish king brought her trials of many kinds, but she seems to have come through them all and to have reached a higher place in the hearts of the people of her adopted country. She is very often in England, where she is welcomed by a host of relatives.

It is ten years since Queen Victoria was married, and she has four sons and two daughters. The children, who are yet too young to share the cares of state, seem happy little folks. One cannot help wondering whether their mother is anxious about the position of Spain at this time, and whether her influence has any weight in state affairs.

A Successful Bazaar

For three weeks of this month, a great bazaar was held in New York which raised a very large sum for the war sufferers of the Allied nations. It had the support of many merchants in the great city, who contributed goods from all the countries. In the booths, were salesmen and saleswomen dressed in native costume, and everything that was beautiful or distinctive formed part of the stock. So well arranged was the affair that it is said it was a miniature representation of that part of Europe opposed to Germany before the war began.

The French Government sent an exhibition which attracted great attention. It consister of war relics and war pictures as well as moving pictures. Among these were the remains of the aeroplane on which the great aviator Pegoud made his last daring flight. It is curious to learn that in the transatlantic city fresh flowers were, every day, placed on the grim souvenir which reminded his countrymen and their descendants of the man who will not soon be forgotten by these worshippers of daring and gallantry.

We cannot but be thankful for the generosity which, through this means, contributed so large a sum to infinite need.

A Graceful Gift

The eighteenth century was nearing its close when, in a comfortable and substantial house in the little town of Hatfield on the Connecticut River, Sophia Smith was born. When she was nearing the end of life the old lady was astonished and perplexed to receive a fortune of $375,000 as a legacy from a brother. Such a sum was far too great to be expended by her in any personal way. How could the money be made to do most good? In the first half of the nineteenth century the problem of poverty was not pressing in the cities of the New England States. The puzzled lady applied to her pastor and it was by his advice she resolved to found at Northampton a college for the higher education of women. It was not till she was gone that the college opened its doors in 1875. Twenty-five years after, this pastor, Dr. Greene, told the students and alumnae at a celebration that Miss Smith was a woman of sound wisdom and discretion, of excellent sense and large and tender sympathies. . . . She was both philanthropic and patriotic. She put a supreme value upon education.

In the half century since its doors were opened to the young women of New England, Smith College has become a great school. Its students number many hundreds and its graduates are to be found all over the United States and in some parts of Canada.

This year the Alumnae Association have purchased the old home of Sophia Smith to serve as a place of rest and recreation for the students alumnae and faculty of the college. The class of 1896 have taken upon themselves the duty of furnishing the house. It has changed little, inside or out, since the day when, forty-six years ago, its gentle mistress was borne from its doors. But as every woman will understand the furniture had been replaced by that which suited the taste of other occupants. It is the pleasant but not easy task of the women, who after twenty years, still hold the memories and associations of their old college dear, to seek out all the old furniture and replace it, as nearly as possible, where its owner would have loved to see it. The home will thus remain a memorial of a bygone time, even while those who seek rest there enjoy the comforts of our modern civilization. Among the things which have been purchased or discovered are her dining room mahogany chairs and sideboard; her cherry table, her childish sampler, on which she had set down the names and birthdays of her mother and father, her three sisters, her three brothers and herself; her andirons, her brass candlesticks and snuffer, her pepper pot, little old cradle and chints and silver cake basket.

This description of some of the contents of the old home is taken from The New York Outlook. Do the women of Canada who have enjoyed the benefits of a higher education treasure as dearly the memories of their old schools as these American women, whom we are accustomed to look upon as severely practical. Are there among wealthy women, any who look upon the advancement of education as one of their highest privileges? Toronto owes to a woman one of its college buildings, and the whole country benefits by the Domestic Science School founded by Mrs. Massey-Treble. There must, however, be reverence and gratitude on the part of those benefited as well as generosity if such bequests are to be of their greatest value. The spirit of the Smith Alumnae is one that should spread.

CONSERVATIVES OF WARD TWO TO MEET

Hon. Thomas Taylor, M.P., Will Speak at Gathering—Mr. Brewster Makes Another Trip to Vancouver.

Conservatives of Ward Two will assemble tonight at 8 o'clock in the new association rooms, Union Bank Building, to transact general business preparatory to the inauguration of the election campaign this Summer. Among the speakers will be Hon. Thomas Taylor, Minister of Public Works and Railways; Mr. R. W. Perry, Mr. William Blakemore and other prominent members of the party.

Ward Three will hold its meeting on Thursday, and the day following has been set for the rally of Ward Five Conservatives. Among the matters to be dealt with at these meetings is the selection of delegates to the forthcoming convention, which, it is expected, will be held within the next two or three weeks.

The Liberals of Victoria have commenced a second round of meetings in various parts of the city. Last night, at the Arcade Building rooms, several supporters of the Opposition assembled to hear Mr. H. C. Brewster, their leader, but were doomed to disappointment, as he had left on a flying trip to Vancouver, apparently in another effort to restore unity in the party in that quarter. The outburst of Mr. Ralph Smith, senior member of the ticket in the Terminal City, and the evident rupture in the party circles there, have created so much work for Mr. Brewster during the past few days that he finds himself absolutely unable to trouble himself with public meetings. It is probable that he wants to get a tangible idea of just where he stands with the leading members of his party on the Mainland.

HOW MAGNESIA HELPS DYSPEPTICS

Patent Foods, Dieting and Medicines No Longer Necessary

Many dyspeptics have now discontinued the use of expensive patent foods, are eating what they please in reason yet no longer take harmful drugs, medicines and artificial digestants to relieve their stomach trouble. Instead they just take a teaspoonful of pure bisurated magnesia in a little water after meals, with the result that they not only save money but enjoy much better health and the stomach no longer gives them trouble.

Those who have once tried bisurated magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know that this wonderful antacid and food corrective which absolutely does not injure the stomach and which can be obtained at little cost at almost any drug store will instantly neutralize all their excessive stomach acidity and prevent all possibility of their food souring or fermenting in the stomach. Try this plan yourself but be sure to get bisurated magnesia as magnesia in other forms often have a strong laxative effect which is not desirable.

Capt. W. H. Worswick's Expenses From Great Falls, Mont., Will Be Paid for Purpose of Full Investigation.

Capt. W. H. Worswick, whose affidavit concerning the awarding of the 1911 paving contracts, accuses some members of the City Council of that year with having been amenable to bribery, is to be invited to come to Victoria to make his statements in public and to produce whatever proof is in his possession under conditions that will permit of those affected protecting their reputations to the full extent of the law.

Ald. R. Porter was responsible for this solution of the problem which has faced the present City Council ever since Capt. Worswick's sweeping declaration of municipal corruption in connection with the paving work of over five years ago was received two weeks ago. The alderman made the motion indicated at last evening's meeting, arguing that it would be unfair to permit the captain's letters to be made public until that individual was on Canadian soil and prepared, in person, to support his assertions.

Alderman Porter observed that the accuser was ready and willing, according to his own communication, to come here and, therefore, he should be given opportunity and his expenses should be paid by the city to that end. This outlay would not amount to much as Capt. Worswick was no great distance off, his present residence being at Great Falls, Montana.

Opposed to Publicity

This proposal came after Mayor Stewart had made clear his position in a few words. He was opposed to the publication of the statement. Capt. Worswick's accusations were too serious and the chances of members of the council finding themselves confronted with serious libel actions were too great.

Ald. Todd was agreeable to Ald. Porter's suggestion. It seemed reasonable and fair, and he was glad to second it. But he expressed a desire to have an expression of opinion from the city solicitor as to the council's position. He felt that in such matters the council was privileged, and he would like to know, he stated, whether it was not its right to have the statement read if it so desired. If it was in the interests of the citizens that this or any other document, regardless of its reflections on some individuals, should be laid before the mayor and aldermen he wanted to know whether the latter could be held collectively or individually responsible.

City Solicitor Hannington, in reply, said that he had not yet given any considered opinion on the point. There was a possibility, and very likely a probability, that there would be trouble in the present instance.

Ald. Fullerton commented on the whole thing being published in The Sunday Colonist. He regretted that this was so and expressed his surprise. He thought, however, that it was due to the members of the 1911 council, as well as to the other people mentioned, that there should be an effort made to get at the facts—that there should be the fullest investigation.

Wants Facts Uncovered

Ald. Peden stated that he did not care how the facts were got at so long as they were uncovered. He was not going to express any opinion on the veracity or otherwise of Capt. Worswick's statements but they were serious enough to warrant close enquiry. He thought that the financing of Capt. Worswick's expenses to this city would be money well spent.

The matter of expense was touched on by Ald. Dilworth, who did not feel like giving Capt. Worswick carte blanche. He was assured, however, that the finance committee could be relied on to see that the city was not imposed on in that respect.

Ald. Bell had what may be termed a mild protest and an explanation to make. The headline giving an account of the proceedings of a recent meeting of the streets committee, by The Colonist, at which the Worswick affidavit was discussed, did not meet with his approval. It asserted that he favored a "secret session." He wanted it understood that no one had seen him with respect to holding back the statement. He, therefore, could not be accused of having been intimidated. He only was concerned in seeing that such accusations were not given publicity without some proof. A number of citizens were mentioned and he felt that, in all fairness, there should be a good case against them before serious reflections on their characters were disseminated.

Ald. Porter's motion having carried, the affidavit was laid on the table for another week.

Ald. Todd then moved that the city solicitor prepare a written opinion as to whether the council, the mayor or any of the aldermen, would incur any liability in permitting the document to be read.

WAS WELL-LOVED NATIVE DAUGHTER

Funeral Takes Place of Mrs. Mabel Langley, Who Passed Away at Early Age of 36

Yesterday morning from the residence of her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Rhodes, 1024 Terrace Avenue, the funeral took place of Mrs. Mabel Sophia Langley, the Very Rev. Dean Schofield conducting services at the house and at Christ Church Cathedral, from where the cortege proceeded, shortly before 11 o'clock, to Ross Bay cemetery. At the graveside another short service was conducted by the Dean. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. Maurice Hills, J. A. Mara, C. Stalschmidt, Alexis Martin, C. A. Holland and Major Brian Drake.

Mrs. Mabel Langley, who was summoned to her rest at the early age of 36 years, was a daughter of the late Mr. Justice Walkem, who lived at Maplehurst and was one of the earliest settlers on Vancouver Island. Her husband's father was a well-known wholesale chemist here many years ago and lived at Maplewood. His brother is Major W. H. Langley, of the 47th Battalion, now Somewhere in France. The late Mrs. Langley's mother before her marriage to Mr. Justice Walkem was Miss Sophia Rhodes, a daughter of the late Hon. Henry Rhodes and a sister of the late Mr. Charles Rhodes and also of Mrs. R. Jaxton, a well-known oldtimer here.

The late Mrs. Langley, who was born in Victoria, spent the greater part of her life in this city, where she received her early education. She went to Europe to finish her studies. Since her marriage to Mr. A. G. Langley she has resided in Vancouver. Her death followed many months of illness, during which she underwent a serious operation. Quiet and unassuming in character, she was a general favorite with all who had the privilege of knowing her. She was a good daughter, a loving wife and widely esteemed. Her death creates a void among a wide coterie of friends who had learned to admire her many lovable qualities. She leaves three children, aged respectively nine, five and one.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

FIELD DAY PLANNED FOR SATURDAY WEEK

Vancouver Island Athletic Association Will Hold Grand Naval and Military Tournament at Royal Athletic Park.

The Vancouver Island Athletic Association has made arrangements to hold a grand naval and military patriotic tournament and field day at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday, July 8. The events will be open to naval, military and civilian amateurs and the programme will comprise a splendidly varied list of events, which will give practically everyone, man, woman and child, a chance to show his or her prowess in some form or other of athletic activity.

The fact that the tournament will be under the management of Mr. W. H. Davies is sufficient guarantee that nothing will be overlooked to make it a success. The indoor tournaments which have been held under Mr. Davies' superintendance by the V.I.A.A. have all been conspicuously successful and run on true sporting lines, and there is no doubt that this more ambitious event will be in every way as successful.

The track events will include the usual events, and in addition there will be a special relay race for business men's teams which should prove particularly interesting and draw a good number of entries from the business houses of the city.

The ladies will not be forgotten as the programme includes a race for the married ladies and also a needle and thread race for married couples. There will also be special races for school children and a special race for returned soldiers.

No tournament staged by the V.I.A.A. would be complete without boxing events, and there will be competitions in all the usual classes and also in wrestling; it is also expected that arrangements will be made with local Japanese to enable the inclusion of Jiu Jitsu contests. Hindu wrestling will also be included.

The ship's company of H.M.C.S. Rainbow have promised their co-operation, and it is expected that there will be a large number of entries from the ship, while a naval field gun display by men of the Rainbow will form one of the special features of the afternoon.

The entry committee consists of the following: Warrant Officer King, of H.M.C.S. Rainbow, Messrs. Harry Skuce and A Hawthornthwaite. Entries should be sent to the committee at 641 Fort Street before Wednesday, July 5.

Following is a complete list of the events which it is intended to include in the programme:

Track Events

100 yards, 220 yards, quarter mile, half mile, 120-yard low hurdles, half-mile relay race, sack race, high jump, running broad jump, obstacle race, potato race, bandsmen's race, business men's half-mile relay, tug-of-war (one pull). School children's races (post entries), age 9 to 14 years—50 yards, girls; 50 yards, boys. Needle and thread race, husband and wife only; married ladies' race; returned soldiers' race, 100 yards.

Boxing—105 lbs., 115 lbs., 125 lbs., 135 lbs., 145 lbs., 158 lbs., heavy. Wrestling—105 lbs. 115 lbs. 125 lbs. 135 lbs. 145 lbs., 158 lbs., heavy; Jiu Jitsu wrestling; Hindu wrestling; naval field gun display; pie eating contest.

Seventy-five per cent of the proceeds will go to the Red Cross, Patriotic and other funds, a fact which should ensure a full attendance at what promises to be one of the best tournaments of the kind held since the outbreak of war.

INCOGS DEFEATED BY THE NAVY'S ELEVEN

Sailors Continued Winning Streak at Canteen Ground Yesterday—Showed Good Form in All Departments.

The Navy have acquired the habit lately of winning all their cricket matches, and it is a habit that not even the strong team taken down to the Canteen ground on Saturday by the Incogs was able to break them of. In Saturday's encounter the Incogs were the first to bat, and ran up the very respectable total of 123, aided by a notable contribution of 55 from Sparks. Nothing daunted, the sailors faced the bowling of Sparks and Schwengers and proceeded to hit up a score. Lieut. Thomas lacked but one run of his fifty when he was run out, and Paymaster Haddon retired after he had made 37. The score was taken to 149 with Tidswell and Hanson not out and Clapperton and Jessop still to bat. The full score was as follows:

BILLY WEEKS MATCHED AGAINST IVAN MILLER

Canadian Middleweight Champion Will Defend His Title at Aberdeen in Ten-Round Bout With Seattle Lad

Billy Weeks, the Canadian middleweight champion, is due to meet Ivan Miller, of Seattle, in Aberdeen on the night of July 3 in the big athletic feature event of that city's celebration. This contest will be of ten rounds, and as it is the first time in months that Weeks has had to defend his title in anything longer than a four or six-round bout, some of the wise ones are expressing a doubt of his ability to travel over the longer route.

However, that is a doubt that is not shared by Weeks' backers and admirers, and the chances are that the Canadian boy will show that he is good for the extra distance.

MAINLAND TEAM WILL BE REPRESENTATIVE

Strong Eleven From Vancouver Will Try the Skill of Island Players on Dominion Day—Final Details Arranged.

Interest is running high in the forthcoming cricket match against Vancouver for the benefit of the Red Cross. All the local players are losing no opportunity to get in as much practice as possible, as they realise that the team to be sent over from the Mainland will take a lot of beating.

In this connection the following appraisal of the various players on the Vancouver team by "Third Man" will be of interest:

F. A. A. Barrs will captain the team, and his ability with the willow will no doubt give the Island bowlers considerable trouble.

J. F. Mende is the fast bowler of the eleven, and the only fast bowler entitled to a place on a representative eleven.

E. J. Stroyan's left-hand medium pace deliveries should make an excellent combination with Mends.

L. T. Dwelly's brilliant work in the field is always a great asset to any team, and he is likely to knock up runs when the rest of the eleven fail.

A. J. Killick's services behind the wicket could hardly be dispensed with, and he is good for runs any time and under any circumstances.

W. G. Chandler has proved himself an able batsman, while his work in the slips will open the eyes of the Victoria crowd.

G. F. St. J. Davey is probably the most consistent batsmen in the eleven, and rarely fails to give the team a good start.

G. R. Leigh ought to give a good account of himself, either as a batsman, bowler or in the field.

C. V. B. Davey is the slow left-hand bowler of the team, and if he is given an opportunity he will undoubtedly account for a few wickets, while his batting cannot by any means be ignored.

G. Irving is one of the change bowlers in the team and is a serviceable batsman, while his work as an outfield is the very best.

The sale of tickets is proceeding well locally. Yesterday one of the ladies who is assisting the committee in this particular visited the ships of the C. P. R. Company in port and sold a large number of tickets to members of the crews, who, although they will not be able to attend the game, showed a readiness to help on the good cause with their subscriptions, which was a source of great gratification to the committee.

The committee held a final meeting last evening to arrange necessary details, and all are now putting forth their best efforts in the time remaining to ensure making the event noteworthy in every way.

ROLAND ROBERTS WON JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeated Elmer Griffin in Straight Sets—Now Has Right to Complete in New York Championships

DEL MONTE, Cal., June 26.—Roland Roberts, of San Francisco, won the Pacific States junior singles tennis championship here on Sunday, by decisively defeating Elmer Griffin, of San Francisco, in straight sets, 6-4, 8-6, 6-1.

Griffin's clever playing and wonderful court covering rendered the first two sets interesting, but Robert's cannonball service and powerful drives enabled him always to dominate the situation, and in the closing set Griffin, worn with his early efforts, completely crumpled up.

In addition to winning the championship, Roberts earned the privilege of going to New York to compete in the junior championships, August 25, at Forest Hills. Roberts is 19 years old, a student at the Lowell High School in San Francisco, and a member of an athletic family, his father having been prominent in Wales as a Rugby football player.

PROGRESS MADE IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Many Surprises in Yesterday's Play—Long Struggle in Men's Singles—Veteran Scratch Pair Win Match.

Despite the threatening weather and bad light a number of games were played off yesterday afternoon in the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club's handicap tournament. In the ladies' singles surprises were the order of the day; Mrs. Broome, a recent arrival in the city, easily disposed of Miss K. Hudson in two sets, while it took Miss Porritt three sets to beat Miss P. Peatt, and the same number of sets for Miss Appleby to beat Mrs. Leeming.

Among the men the most exciting game was the men's doubles between Brown and Bone, the club's veterans, and Davis and Sweeney. Despite their rather heavy handicap, the former pair beat their younger opponents, but it took three sets to do it. A long struggle took place in the men's singles between Simpson and Foreman, the former eventually winning by the third set, 14-12. The detailed scores were as follows:

Yesterday's Results

Ladies' Singles

Mrs. Brown (scr.) beat Miss K. Hudson (— 15), 6-2, 6-1.

Miss Porritt (+ 15) beat Miss P. Peatt (— ½ 15), 8-1, 4-6, 6-4.

Miss Appleby (scr.) beat Mrs. Leeming (— 15), 6-4, 3-6, 6-8.

Ladies' Doubles

Mrs. Clute and Miss Rickaby won by default from Mrs. McIndoe and Mrs. Dowker.

Mixed Doubles

Mrs. and Mrs. Clute (— 30) beat Mrs. Hudson and H. Hudson, 6-2, 6-3.

Men's Doubles

Brown and Bone (scr.) beat Davies and Sweeney (+ 15), 6-3, 5-7, 7-5.

Men's Singles

G. Simpson beat A. E. Foreman, 6-3, 4-6, 14-12.

Today's Games

The following games have been arranged for this afternoon:

At 4:30 p.m.—Ladies' singles: Mrs. Elgee plays Miss Tuck; Miss Dod plays Miss Malcolm. Ladies' doubles: Mrs. Leeming plays Miss Camsusa; Miss J. McLeod plays Miss Bone. Mixed doubles: Miss Ross and J. G. Brown play Miss Meston and H. O. Kirkham.

At 5:30 p.m.—Men's singles: H. O. Kirkham plays Scrivener; C. B. S. Phelan plays F. H. Forbes; C. J. Humphries plays Fairbairn; Davis plays Hoyle.

WANT WAR TROPHIES

Cowichan Bay Celebration Committee Request the Loan of Trophies for Exhibition on Dominion Day

A special feature of the grand fete and aquatic sports to be held at Cowichan Bay on Dominion Day will be the exhibition of war trophies which will be on view in the field opposite the wharf, guarded by members of the Duncan Cadet Corps.

It is hoped to make this exhibition very complete, and the committee in charge of the celebration is requesting that all who have such trophies will be kind enough to lend them for the occasion. Any such trophies may be left at The Colonist Office today, and will be taken every care of and returned after the exhibition.

As the whole proceeds from the fete and exhibition will go to the Cowichan branches of the Red Cross and patriotic funds, it is hoped that all who can will aid the cause in this manner.

The Johnson Street Bridge

Sir,—In your issue of Sunday, 25th inst., you refer, in an editorial, under the heading "The Johnson Street Bridge," to my notice of resolution by which I would have the City Council take the necessary steps to secure for the citizens their rights to the free use of the existing E. & N. bridge, for foot and vehicular traffic, in accordance with the understanding arrived at between the railway and the City Council in 1887, as confirmed by the resolution of the Council of July 6, 1887, and by the order in council of the Dominion Government of August 26, 1887.

Your editorial then proceeds to discuss the proposed harbor bridge, a matter with which my resolution that you refer to has little to do. The two things that can only be coupled together indirectly, for example, if the city's rights to use the existing E. & N. bridge are confirmed then the city (or the Government, it is immaterial, to this point, which) will be able to obtain from the railway more favorable terms of contribution towards any new joint bridge than have, so far, been obtainable. Or perhaps you fear that if any action is taken against the railway in this matter the railway may attempt to take some spiteful action against the city?

However, without setting out any argument upon my proposed resolution, you say, "We hope the City Council will not pass 'Alderman Todd's resolution.'"

Why? I think the public would be interested if you would examine the proposed resolution, go into it, criticize it and pull it to pieces. The resolution sets out what I firmly believe to be the fact, namely, that the public are entitled to use the existing E. & N. bridge, freely, for both pedestrians and vehicles. Past records are quoted, which you can look up, and if you can point out any part of the proposed resolution which is not in accordance with the exact facts why, I not only challenge you to do so, but will be most pleased if you will do so, for I wish to be exactly correct in the matter.

I am convinced that the public have the right to use the existing E. & N. bridge, for both foot and vehicles, and, if we possess this right, certainly it would be most convenient now to many people to make use of it, in connection with the building work going on on the reserve for the Dominion Government, Shipbuilding Co., the Provincial Government works, etc.

I am passing over without comment some inaccurate remarks your editorial makes concerning the Johnson Street bridge negotiations, so kindly do not think that upon these points "Silence gives consent."

Awaiting your detailed criticism of the resolution, I am,

A. E. TODD,
Alderman.

Victoria, B. C., June 26, 1916.

Mr. Blackburn arose and pointed to the employees attending the meeting the picture of the "good time they are having with their fifty or sixty dollars a month sure money and never a worry." The resolution passed read: "That the tradesmen of Sidney and district agree to close their places of business at 1 p.m. on Monday of each week."

PRODUCTION AND THRIFT

Boys and Girls Can Help by "Doing Their Bit" at Home

"Every one at work" is the call during war time. The more men recruited, the greater the responsibility of those left at home. Men who have worked hard and saved some money so as to spend their old age in comfort will be turning in again to help their sons on the farms or will step in to take the places of some sons who have joined the colors. Women, the busiest of whom seem always able to do something more, will be dividing their time between household duties and outdoor work. Young men from the farm will no doubt cut short their term at school or college and lend a hand at Spring work and stay with the farm operations until the crops are harvested. Large numbers of soldiers will get temporary leave. Are there any others who can lend a hand in producing? What about the boys and girls who have been receiving instruction in school gardening? A pamphlet just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture sets forth in illustrated and descriptive form how school garden work has been carried on in all the Provinces of Canada. What are the boys and girls doing now? What is their education and training worth?

Here is their opportunity to demonstrate at home in the most practical manner what they have been taught at school. The boys and girls of Canada, thousands in number, should be able to do their bit in conducting small gardens at home. Boys' and girls' patriotic gardens should produce tons upon tons of fresh vegetables for their home supply, and they can readily learn how to put up the surplus for Winter use. What pleasure they can get this year in growing food in the home garden and thus helping their fathers and mothers! Production along this line is patriotism.

Then what about waste material? Old paper and rags are needed in our industries, so are metals and bottles and rubber and a score of other things. The country needs material and cannot afford to waste. The saving and use of waste are as important as production. Boys and girls can make money out of scrap.

The soldiers at the front would like to get news from home. Boys and girls can send them some papers. Wrap up the papers and mail them to The Canadian Red Cross, 14 Cockspur Street, London, S.W., England.

CLOSING EXERCISES AT ST. ANN'S SCHOOL

Pleasant Function Held on Friday Last at the Academy —Honors and Promotions for Scholars Announced.

The school closing exercises at St. Ann's Academy on Friday last in the auditorium, the second function of its kind within the week, the other being the graduating exercises on Tuesday last, a most pleasing event.

Two hundred children were grouped prettily on the stage and the steps below. A very pleasing chorus, "Thou Lovely June," was followed by an essay inspired by Wordsworth's great "Ode to Duty," read by Miss Dorothy Robertson. In this address, touching reference was made to a recently deceased young teacher on the staff of St. Ann's, Sister Mary Ambrose. The junior singing class gave two pretty selections, "The Child and the Rose," and "The Butterfly"—every word being distinctly understood. At the close, Monsignor Laterme, in the absence of His Lordship, Bishop MacDonald, spoke, first to the assembled students, urging them to be grateful to parents and teachers, and wishing them a pleasant vacation; then to the audience. He recalled the story of Cornelia, the Roman matron, who, when asked to show her treasures, turned proudly to her two sons, saying: "These are my jewels." "All these children here present," he continued, "are your jewels, and favorably indeed have they appeared; and here, in their presence, I would ask of you a favor, a pledge that just as you so tenderly care for their bodily welfare, in like manner care for their immortal soul. Then indeed will the children grow up a credit to you, their parents, and to this institution which trains them so well."

PERSONALS.

Well-known Women.

Chatham, Ont.—"I was sick for about four years. Got very weak, could not eat to amount to anything. I got very thin and had no strength at all. I was very much discouraged at times—thought I was never going to get better. I could not walk a block without feeling all tired-out. I took different medicines but did not get the help I needed. A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I began to take it with the 'Pleasant Pellets' and by the time I had taken two bottles I was well on the road to recovery, and in six months I was entirely well. My appetite came back and I gained in flesh. Now I am as strong and healthy as any one could wish to be. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's medicines and I am glad of the opportunity to give testimony in their favor; they have done wonders for me."—Miss [illegible], 141 E. King St.

Chatham, Ont.—"I have taken Dr. Pierce's medicine with good results. I was weak and run down, lost my appetite and got very thin. I took 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets' and these two medicines built me up in a very short space of time so that I felt as well as ever. I found them to be all that is recommended of them; they are good."—Mrs. [illegible], Cor. Taylor & [illegible] Ave., E. Chatham, Ont.

WOOL AND HIDE MARKET

Prices at Eastern Points Are Reported Firm, With Demand Good

TORONTO, June 27.—Wool is being marketed in large quantities, and is being absorbed at the present high market prices. The heavy deliveries indicate that dealers at country points evidently deem it good business policy to take advantage of the high prices now ruling to dispose of their wool and not wait for a decline which undoubtedly will occur, should any one of a number of contingencies arise. Unwashed wool, 33c to 37c per lb., according to quality and condition. Washed fleece is now coming in, and prices rule at 47c to 52c per lb., according to quality and condition. Northwest unwashed, according to quality and condition, 25c to 37c per lb.

Beefhides are unchanged, and are coming to market in fair supply. Butcher hides, green flat, 20c per lb.; country hides, flat cured, 19c to 20c.

Tallow is a little easier, the lower grades are rather draggy; city rendered, solid, in barrels, 9½c; country stock, solid, in barrels, No. 1, 9c; No. 2, 8c to 8½c; cake, No. 1, 9½c to 10c; No. 2, 8c to 9c.

Horsehides are in fair supply at unchanged prices; city take off, $6.50 to $7.; country take off, No. 1, $6 to $6.50; No. 2, $5 to $5.50.

The wearing of unauthorized articles of clothing, etc., such as mess dress, frock coats, leggings or San Brown belts by warrant officers is strictly forbidden. Slacks may be worn in or out of barracks or camp when off duty, but low shoes and colored socks are not to be worn. When slacks are worn outside of barracks or camp, Sam Browne belt must also be worn. Walking sticks are not to be carried on parade.

BANTAMS' STRENGTH GROWING QUICKLY

Detachment of Recruits for 143rd Battalion Arrives From the Prairies—Recruiting Party Now at Vancouver.

Thirty-six recruits for the 143rd Battalion—the B. C. Bantams—marched into the barracks at Beacon Hill on Sunday morning, to swell the ranks of Lieut.-Col. A. Bruce Powley's battalion. The Bantams are now leading the Toronto Bantams in their numbers. The two battalions were formed about the same time, and until about a week ago the Eastern Bantams led by a small margin. There is keen rivalry between the two, and the members of the 143rd are leaving nothing undone in order to have their corps finish ahead of the Easterners.

The 143rd is engaged in recruiting men of 5 ft. 4 in. and under throughout British Columbia and Alberta. Lieuts. Campbell, Colgate, and Johns have headquarters at Edmonton, and Lieut. Greenhill at Calgary. The Bantams have reached the 700 mark, and are now campaigning to reach the next stage of their work—to recruit to the 800 mark.

Campaigners Succeed

Several men were signed on following up the great recruiting rally undertaken on Saturday afternoon by the British Columbia Campaigners, and a number are coming from the mainland with the recruiting detachment, accompanied by the band, which has completed a march through the Fraser Valley. At both Calgary and Edmonton other drafts are being assembled, to be sent forward to Victoria, and it is expected that little time will elapse before the battalion has reached full strength, and is ready for the call to go overseas.

Marching over twenty-five miles from Cloverdale into Vancouver, the recruiting party of eighty rank and file, which has been working on the Mainland, completed its long hike through the Fraser Valley on Saturday. The party spent six days in the valley. The first and second days were spent at New Westminster, the third and fourth at Chilliwack, and on Friday a stay was made at Cloverdale, where they marched back to Vancouver. The party was treated most hospitably throughout its tour. Parades headed by the band, and open-air concerts were held at each point. At every community visited, the Bantams were welcomed by the officials, the Mayor and Council receiving them at New Westminster, Cloverdale, Abbotsford, and Chilliwack.

On the return to Vancouver, the Bantam detachment was entertained by the officers and men of the 6th Regiment, D. C. O. R., and the Bantams will remain for a couple of days, returning home today or Wednesday.

YUKON CONTINGENT TO GO TO SIDNEY

Volunteers From North Will Take Up Military Training at Island Mobilization Centre, Which Opens Monday.

It is not likely that the Sidney training camp will be opened before next Monday, according to information obtained from headquarters yesterday. Col. J. Duff Stuart, the D. O. C., on his return from Vancouver, stated that the preparations for the establishment of the centre were in hand, and that no time would be lost in transporting the troops. While it is not generally expected that the soldiers will be under canvas for a week, it is possible, therefore, that the 143rd Battalion, "B. C. Bantams" will be moved from Beacon Hill to North Saanich, and that the Yukon contingent, now quartered at the old Drill Hall, Menzies Street, will have been transferred before that date.

The other unit which is to spend the Summer on the Island is the 231st Seaforth Highlanders, of Vancouver. There are now about 700 officers and men in this corps. It was authorized several months ago, and ever since has been engaged in recruiting in Vancouver. A detachment is to be left at the Terminal City, to continue that work, and the main body is coming here to prepare for active service. Lieut.-Col. Leach is its commander.

Col. Stuart announces that the 11th Overseas Battalion, C. M. R., which left Victoria last Tuesday, at last is on its way East, having been delayed in Vancouver owing to the washouts on the main line of the C. P. R.

HANDLING CARGO ON SEATTLE WATERFRONT

Longshoremen's Strike Has Not Tied Up Work and Many Ships Being Loaded—Government Supplies Held Up.

SEATTLE, June 26.—Cargo was moving at every shipping terminal on the Seattle waterfront today, and vessels were given better dispatch than at any time since the longshoremen's strike was resumed. The improved conditions were the result of two developments, the granting of all the longshoremen's demands by Mitsui & Co., who have four steamers here loading for the Orient, and the assembling of 100 additional strikebreakers by the Seattle Waterfront Employers' Union.

Grant Demands

Mitsui & Co. not only granted the demands of the longshoremen regarding wages and working conditions, but took their vessels out of the hands of James Griffiths & Sons, loading brokers, who have been declared unfair by the longshoremen. Waterhouse & Co. acceded to the longshoremen's demands on Saturday, and three vessels chartered by them for the Vladivostok service were worked by union men today. Non-union men were employed on two Japanese steamers at the Great Northern dock, the big British liner Teucer at Pier 14 and on half a dozen coastwise and Alaska vessels.

It was estimated that 450 non-union and as many union workmen were working at the various piers.

Would Use Soldiers

Col. Geo. E. Rustlen, U.S.A., in charge of the army quartermaster's depot here notified Mayor Hiram C. Gill today that if the police did not afford better protection for the loading of military supplies for Alaska, the Government would use deputy United States marshals or a detachment of soldiers, as it was necessary that supplies be moved promptly. The Mayor promised that men handling Government goods would be given ample protection. No violence has been reported here since the strike was resumed.

STEAMER MARIPOSA HAS NARROW ESCAPE

It is only a few weeks since the completion of repairs on the steamer Mariposa, made necessary by her submersion in Lama Passage last Fall. She went ashore near Bella Bella on October 8, 1915, and was salved by the B. C. Salvage Company, after which she was taken to Seattle for hull repairs, and then to Yarrows, at Esquimalt, for upper works and interior fittings.

On Monday last, the vessel had another narrow escape. While on her way North, and when passing through Wrangell Narrows, she struck a sand bar. Capt. O'Brien, who was in command of the Mariposa, states that they were travelling under slow bell and the tide, which was high, swung her to one side, and she struck. As the obstruction was soft, and the vessel was at the extreme end of the bar, she slid over it and continued on her voyage. The pumps were started and an investigation made, but the vessel was found not to be leaking, and a further survey by a diver at Juneau satisfied the captain that his ship was in first class condition after her experience.

The Mariposa is owned by the Alaska Steamship Company.

Life of Iron Craft

Speaking of the longevity of iron craft, The Baltimore Journal of Commerce calls attention to the fact that the iron bark La Argentina, forty-two years old, which has sailed the seas since 1874, was loading general cargo for Buenos Ayres at that port recently. This vessel was originally the Durham in the Australian trade.

Inaba Maru Tomorrow

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner, Inaba Maru, has reported that she will reach this port tomorrow morning, her first trip here for some time. She has 58 cabin and 175 steerage passengers aboard. She will discharge 320 tons of freight here and a large quantity of mail.

Makura Arrives Thursday

The local C. P. R. office is in receipt of advices to the effect that the Canadian-Australasian liner Makura will arrive at Victoria Thursday, June 29, at about 12 o'clock noon. Sir Rider Haggard, the famous novelist, is aboard.

WESTERN SCOTS ARE KEEPING UP SPORTS

Soccer Team Has Been Constantly Busy—Capt. Okell Is Now Looking After Organization of Lacrosse Team.

Captain Okell, of the Western Scots, who is organizing a lacrosse team in his battalion now in the Old Country. His work both as a lacrosse and soccer star is well known here.

The latest issue to hand of The Western Scot has the following newsy item under the heading of "Athletics":

"Since arrival in England our soccer team, of which we are all justly proud, has been kept pretty busy. They brought with them the Peden Cup tucked neatly away in their vest pocket, emblematic of the championship of Vancouver Island, and up to date have kept up their reputation in good style, having been beaten only once, that our first game on the first Saturday of our arrival in the tight little island, when the South African Scottish waltzed away victory by a margin of one goal. Since then the team has been kept constantly busy, some of their notable victories being against the 3rd South Africans, the 75th Canadians and 47th Canadians.

"The latter match was played on Saturday, the 20th, at Bordon Camp, and proved to be about the hardest tussle we have yet encountered and incidentally a splendid exhibition of association football. The 47th came to us with a reputation of which any team might justly be proud, having been unbeaten for eighteen months; but it appeared to be decreed that on meeting the Western Scots it was their turn to bite the dust. Still it was a good game, and the score of 1-0 fairly represents the evenness of the two teams. We hope a return match will be arranged soon as it will be well worth seeing.

Team Entertains

"An enjoyable little seance was held by the football team at Bordon after its victorious tilt with the 47th Battalion. Major Harbottle was the originator of the idea of getting the team together for the evening, and many of our own officers, in addition to those of the South Africans and 75th Canadians, enjoyed the party. Cpl. Fairnie, the efficient messman, wore a happy smile and said that he had never had a better evening's business.

"Capt. Macdonell has his tug-of-war artistes out for at least half an hour's practice every day.

"Capt. Okell has been delegated to go to London to buy lacrosse sticks and material, so the national game of Canada is not being lost sight of.

"It is with pleasure we announce the active work being done by the Y.M.C.A. in an athletic way. Sgt. Stan Young has things well in hand, obtaining supplies such as baseballs, bats, footballs, basketballs, etc. We'll soon be going strong in all Summer games.

Hit the Post

"The match with the 48th on Friday, the 23th, was very disappointing from our point of view. Our rivals emerged victoriously by a score of 3-1. We played against the sun in the first half, when all the scoring was done. The loss of the match was entirely due to lack of condition of our men. The 48th were on the ball all the time, followed up hard, and were triers all the way. Our men, however, were very slack and had no ginger after the first fifteen minutes with perhaps the exception of the last five minutes, when they made a futile burst which was easily enough repelled. Shearman at centre was slow; Capt. Okell seemed right off color; Lumsden never seemed to wake up—in fact the only men to uphold their reputation were Ord, Nicholls and Allen. course it is easy to criticize, but we hope that the lesson the team should have learned will bear fruit."

STEAMER BARRISTER REACHES THIS PORT

Went Ashore in Fog in Active Pass and Puts Back for Examination—Diver Goes Down This Morning.

While bound from Vancouver to Seattle, the Harrison liner Barrister, Captain Richards, went ashore one cable west of Portlock Point, Prevost Island, at low tide yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock. At the time of the accident Pilot Jones, a Vancouver pilot, was in charge. Fog had been encountered and the vessel was groping her way along and had almost passed through Active Pass when she happened upon the end of a shoal. The steamer went on very easily and she backed off with the rising tide about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Capt. Richards sent word to Balfour, Guthrie & Co., local agents for the Harrison-Direct Line, advising them that the vessel was in no need of assistance and would proceed to this port. She docked at the Outer Wharf about 7 o'clock last evening when the work of removing part of the cargo from No. 1 hold was immediately started. Preparations were also made for an exhibition of the hull. A platform was sunk at the bow of the vessel for the use of the diver who went down at 6 o'clock this morning. Until his report is made nothing can be said as to the extent of the damage, but the vessel was still leaking, according to information last night.

May Be Drydocked

The Barrister is one of the latest additions to the Harrison line and she arrived at this port last Tuesday from the British Isles. She was loading at Pacific Coast ports for her return trip and had already loaded between 4,000 and 5,000 cases of salmon at Vancouver and was on her way to Seattle to load freight at that port when the accident happened. It is altogether likely that the Barrister will have to be drydocked.

Sunday night's heavy fog caused considerable delay to other vessels, the C. P. R. steamer Princess Sophia finding it necessary to drop anchor north of Seymour Narrows, where she was reported by wireless fogbound at 9:10 yesterday morning. The Sophia was southbound from Alaska.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot above the average level of lower water.

THE TIME BALL

The time ball on the Belmont Building will be raised half-mast high at 12:45 p.m., to the top at 12:55 p.m., and will be dropped at 1 p.m. daily.

CHIEFTAIN IS FLOATED

Salvage Crew With Wrecking Barge Skookum Reports Tug Will Be Off Rock Today

According to word received from the salvage crew of the Vancouver Dredging & Salvage Company, which is engaged in getting the Creer & Coyle tug Chieftain off a rock in Vina Sound, Knight's Inlet, the Chieftain should be floated sometime today.

The salvage barge Skookum, with the salvage men aboard, was towed North by the tug Queen, belonging to the owners of the Chieftain. It was not expected that the floating of the latter would entail any unusual difficulties, as the vessel was hung up by her stern on the rock.

REACHED PORT SUNDAY

Japanese Liner Canada Maru Has Stowaways on Board—Brings Passengers and Freight

The O. S. K. liner Canada Maru reached the Outer Wharf early Sunday morning and after discharging a small quantity of freight for this port proceeded on her way to Puget Sound Ports, where she will unload most of her cargo of 5,500 tons. Her raw silk shipment is valued at $576,000.

Among her eighty-two passengers were two Japanese stowaways, who boarded the ship apparently at Yokohama and hid themselves away in the bunkers, where they were discovered after the vessel had left the Japanese coast far behind.

The immigration authorities here would not allow them to land and they will remain aboard the ship until she again reaches the port whence she came.

MISSED SEATTLE TRIP

Fog and Heavy Freight Compels Prince George to Eliminate Regular Call

Delayed by fog and owing also to heavy freight shipments, the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince George found it impossible to make the regular trip to Seattle yesterday, and, therefore, came on direct to this port from Vancouver, in order that she might leave on schedule for the North at 3:30 in the afternoon.

The passengers bound for Seattle were sent over on the afternoon C. P. R. boat, and the salmon consignment for the same port, which was loaded at Vancouver, was unloaded here and trans-shipped.

When the Prince George reached a point out side of the harbor on Sunday night, the fog was so dense that Capt. Donald considered it wise to drop anchor, in order to avoid any possible mishap in meeting the Princess Adelaide on her way out to Vancouver.

After leaving here, the Prince George proceeded North via Vancouver. Among the passengers embarking here were: Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hull, Mrs. A. E. Young, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Faulkner, Miss Pullen, and M. Martin.

SHIPPING AFTER WAR

Eight Hundred Thousand Tons of New German Ships Ready for Trade

The cry that has been raised to the effect that after the war Great Britain must demand a ship of equal tonnage for each ship lost, is gaining greater volume as reports of Germany's preparations for peace become more numerous, says an Eastern exchange. Several important British interests have taken it up, and are advocating such a policy strongly. It is understood that at Hamburg the German shipping companies have 800,000 tons of new ships ready to be employed directly peace is declared. Among the new liners which are said to be completed, besides the Bismarck, the largest in the world, are the Cap Polonia, Admiral Tirpitz, Burgermeister Oswald, Burgermeister Barchadr, Hindenburg, Zeppelin, and Munchen, for the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd lines.

Three Union Men

TACOMA, June 26.—Three union longshoremen were shot and seriously wounded today in a clash between them and strikebreakers at the Sperry flour mill. The strikers rushed the guards at the mill and swarmed over the steamer Santa Cruz, loading at the dock, and through the mill. Strike breakers were badly beaten, as well as employees of the mill.

STILL HOPING TO SAVE STEAMER BEAR

Steamer Salvor, With Capt. W. H. Logan Aboard, Did Not Leave for Scene of Wreck Until Sunday Evening.

The B. C. Salvage Company's steamer Salvor, with Capt. W. H. Logan, local representative of the London Salvage Association, aboard, did not get away from Victoria until Sunday evening. She goes to the scene of the wreck of the steamer Bear, which was wrecked June 14.

As early as last Friday the instructions to hold the Salvor in readiness to proceed to the salvage of the wrecked steamer were received. She was immediately made ready for sea and when the final word was received Sunday from the London underwriters there was no delay in her getting away.

The latest reports from the wreck are not any too encouraging, as huge seas have been battering the vessel and in spite of all efforts of the American concern who are endeavoring to float the vessel she has been driven about fifty feet inshore. A large portion of the cargo has already been jettisoned, and it is feared the rest of it has been damaged by water let in through the bursting seams. The underwriters, however, have not given up hope and no doubt some means will be devised, when the Salvor reaches the scene, of rescuing the Bear from an ocean grave.

The Bear, which is valued at close on to $1,000,000, is owned by the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Company.

CANADIAN FLAG IS NOT MADE WELCOME

Exceedingly Patriotic Juneau Workmen Would Not Touch Ship's Line Till Flag Is Lowered

Despite the fact that some mishap might quite easily have befallen the C. P. R. freighter Princess Ena as a result of their action, some American workmen were so "patriotic" recently that they refused to ignore the oversight by which the Canadian flag was left flying at her forepeak and declined to make fast the vessel's line at the Juneau wharf until the flag was replaced by the Stars and Stripes. The following is a typical American account of the incident:

Juneau dock workers a few days ago, according to word received on the Admiral Wilson, of the Admiral Line, gave a demonstration of patriotism that was totally unexpected. The display of loyalty was of short duration, but it was intense while it lasted.

As the Canadian freighter Princess Ena pulled alongside the wharf and cast her line ashore, the dock workers refused to pick it up and attach it to the pile used for that purpose. It slipped back into the water. Again it was cast ashore. Once more it slipped back. Then Capt. W. L. Gilchrist started to make himself heard. His remarks were vigorous and appropriate.

"I sly, there, you blighters," he yelled. "Why don't you mike that line farst? Do you want this bloomin' ship to pile up?"

Then somebody drew attention to the fact the American flag was not displayed from the forepeak of the vessel.

"Beg pawdon, I'm shuah," said the captain. Somebody hoisted the Stars and Stripes of the forepeak and then unfurled a Canadian flag at the stern, and the demonstration was called off by mutual consent.

LOCAL PRIZE COURT

First to Be Held in Victoria Applies to Cargo of Captured German Schooner

The American schooner Oregon, which was seized by H. M. C. S. Rainbow some weeks ago off the coast of California and towed to this port was the subject of a motion heard in the Appeal Court yesterday, Mr. Justice Martin, local judge in Admiralty, presiding. The case provided the first prize court proceedings taken in Victoria.

The Oregon was chartered by a German firm when captured and was supposed to be carrying supplies in the interests of the enemy. While being towed north she sprung a leak, which it is thought, may have damaged the cargo somewhat. Pending the final decision as to who is entitled to the cargo or the prize money, and to protect their interests, the court ordered that the cargo be removed from the vessel and placed in a warehouse.

A. P. Luxton, K.C., appeared for the Admiralty; H. B. Robertson, for Sheriff Richards, Admiralty court marshal, and L. Crease, K.C., for Barting & Co., Mazatlan, Mexico, owners of the vessel.

ISSUES INTERESTING MAP

Local Resident Compiles Data Showing Industries and Resources of Puget Sound Region

The local office of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway has for free distribution a supply of industrial maps of the Puget Sound region, which is most comprehensive and of wide scope, in that it shows all the transportation and shipping routes and the industries and resources of the region in question. It covers the highways, including the Georgian circuit, the most attractive part of which is on Vancouver Island, from Victoria to Nanaimo.

The map has an added interest, due to the fact that it was compiled by a resident of Victoria, namely, Mr. J. G. Thomson, agent for the C. M. & St. P. Ry., in this city. The original of the map was painted on a large canvas under the direction of Mr. Thomson at a cost of $125, and it was then photographed for purposes of reproduction.

Bear Creek Mines

SPOKANE, Wash., June 27.—W. R. Salisbury, of Salmo, B. C., has taken a bond of $50,000 on the Neptune and Underhill claims on Bear Creek, in the Sheep Creek district, about forty miles from Nelson. The properties have been owned by T. Sapples, of Salmo, and Michael Scully and J. Campbell, of Nelson. They are said to have a fine showing in silver-lead-zinc ores. These claims have been worked and opened up enough to give reliable information on their values. Mr. Sapples, chief owner, is the postmaster at Sheep Creek, and has been employed with the Queen's mines of that district.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET

WINNIPEG, June 26.—Wheat closed from ⅛c up to ⅛c lower; oats, ⅛c to ⅜c up; flax, 1c up for July, and 1⅜c up for October. The market was a very quiet one. It took little to swing it either way, yet the prices were steady and the trading was within very narrow limits. The bulk of it was scalping, but prices moved too slowly even for that. There was some good buying by export houses, but it was offset by hedging. The exporters were mostly after July, and it looked as if some new business was worked, though none could be traced. The demand for cash wheat was very good, with premuiums from unchanged to ⅛c higher. No. 1 sold at ¼c over July. Offerings were very light. Oats was in excellent demand and developed a fair trade at unchanged premiums.

New Ore Body Found

SPOKANE, Wash., June 27.—Discovery of a rich body of ore on the Deer Park property, in the south belt, is reported from Rossland. The mine is owned by the Consolidated Company. Development of a small lead resulted in opening up 10 feet of ore which is said to run high in gold. It is understood that the Consolidated Company intends doing considerable development work on the property immediately by diamond drilling, and it is the opinion of mining men that this section of the Rossland camp will prove the contention of many for years that it is rich in high-grade ore.

Record Sale of Cattle

Word was received here, yesterday, to the effect that at the recent sale of Holstein cattle, in Detroit, all records were broken for average sales. One hundred and forty-two head of cattle sold for $155,715, averaging $1,096.58 per head. The highest price paid was for a seven months-old bull calf, consigned by Oliver Cavana, Jr., which was purchased by an Ohio breeder for $20,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISION MARKET

(Furnished by F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

CHICAGO, June 26.—Scattered rains in the southwest over Sunday and a forecast of unsettled weather tonight and tomorrow caused liberal short covering in wheat which resulted in the upturn. After the break the market has had it is natural that nervousness on the part of shorts should be displayed on any indication of a delay in harvest through wet weather. Crop reports from American Northwest continued of a highly favorable character, and further improvement in the Winter wheat crop in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois was noted as the time for harvest draws near.

HEAVY LIQUIDATION DEPRESSES MARKET

Alarm Over Mexican Situation Is Again Chief Factor—Weakness Extends Even to Standard Railway Issues.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Last week's liquidation was resumed on a broader scale today, the movement being almost entirely in declines, with some slight rallies at the close. The Mexican situation was again the paramount factor, although other developments, such as the court order directing the dissolution of the Corn Products Refining Company, and less optimism regarding crop prospects, helped to bring about the general lowering of values.

Corn Products common, on an extraordinary large turnover, made an extreme decline of 5¼, to 13½, with 11 for the preferred, at 85. Mexicans' average loss was from 2 to 4 points, with 5 for Petroleum and motors, and the war group were 2 and 3 points down, with 9⅛ for Bethlehem Steel before it rebounded. U. S. Steel manifested actual heaviness for the first time in weeks, declining 1¼, to 82⅝, with but little recovery. Copper and zinc shares were heavy to weak. Shipping issues were again adversely influenced by rumors of further reductions in ocean rates and specialties of less definite description yielded sympathetically.

United States Industrial Alcohol added 3 to its 18-point decline of the preceding week, and other stocks that belong to this group suffered in like degree.

The weakness in standard rails, particularly Reading, which was also the most active feature, was perhaps the most disconcerting feature of the session. Offerings of these stocks were most insistent, Reading at its worst displaying a loss of 5½ points. Other leaders, C. P. R., Soo, Union Pacific, and Southern Railway preferred, receded 1 to 2 points. Total sales were 610,000 shares.

In the exchange markets the only noticeable change was the greater firmness of rates on Paris, foreshadowing the completion of the new French war loan by our bankers.

Bonds were heavy, fith general selling of the more speculative issues. Total sales, par value, $2,720,000.

SIX MORE LOCAL MEN ARE WOUNDED

Toll of Victoria Soldiers Wounded at Ypres Is Increased—Are Now Lying in Hospitals.

Six more Victorians have been put out of action during the recent fighting at the Ypres salient. Their names are Gnr. T. S. Floyd, Sgt.-Major Crabtree, Pioneer Lewis Heald, Pioneer J. A. Goldie, Pioneer C. McGillivray and Pioneer J. H. Fielder.

Gnr. T. S. Floyd, wounded, was admitted to St. Luke's War Hospital, Halifax, Yorkshire, on June 21, according to word received here yesterday. He is a native son and was born 26 years ago. He joined the 5th Regiment, C. G. A., during the early part of 1914, and at the outbreak of war left a position with Mr. R. Fowley, municipal engineer at Oak Bay, in order to enlist for active service. He went with a draft which left here in October, 1915, and proceeded to France in May last. He was serving as signaller with the 19th Battery, 3rd Brigade, C. F. A., when wounded. He is a son of Mr. J. Sterling Floyd, of Oak Bay.

Sgt.-Major L. Crabtree, reported wounded, is now lying in London Hospital, where he was admitted on June 15. He is a veteran of the Sudan War and the Boer War, and was formerly a member of the 79th Cameron Highlanders. Relatives live at Swan Lake.

Pioneer Lewis Heald, wounded, is a son of Mr. S. J. Heald, who resides in the Saanich district and is well known in the city. He is a native son and 21 years old. He received his education at the North Ward, Central and High Schools, and was later articled to Messrs. Swannell & Noakes, surveyors. In August, 1915, he signed up with the 1st Pioneers and arrived in France last March. A brother, Earle, is with the 27th Winnipeg Battalion, and has been in the trenches for nearly a year.

Pioneer James Alexander Goldie, wounded, has been admitted to No. 25 General Hospital, Hardelot, where he is receiving treatment for gunshot wounds. He is a son of Mrs. John Goldie, of 1839 Richmond Avenue, and is 22 years of age, having been born at Guelph, Ont. He received a year's education at the Guelph Agricultural College and was also an attendant at Olds College, Alta., for some time. He was subsequently engaged as Government milk inspector at Ladners. He enlisted with the 48th Battalion in July, 1915, and went into the trenches last March. He has a brother at Petawawa Camp and another at Ladysmith. Besides his mother and sister living in Victoria, he has two married sisters.

Pioneer C. McGillivray, wounded, is now at No. 25 General Hospital, Hardelot, according to word received yesterday by Lady McBride, who is his sister. Pioneer McGillivray is a native of Ripley, Ont., and is 30 years of age. He left here with the 1st Pioneers after having resided here and in the North for some years.

Pioneer James H. Fielder, wounded, has a number of friends in this city. He is a native of Brighton, England, and 26 years of age. He came to the Dominion some ten years ago. He lived in Victoria for six years and was employed by Messrs. Moore & Whittington. He enlisted with the 48th Battalion. He has four brothers with the colors.

APPEAL DOES NOT LIE

Court of Appeal, in Rex vs. Gosden, Refuses to Grant Application

That the right of appeal only lies when the case is concluded by a conviction, which was not the fact in this instance, was the unanimous judgment of the Court of Appeal yesterday morning in the appeal taken by the accused in Rex vs. Gosden by way of a stated case sent up by Mr. Justice Murphy from the Assize Court.

Mr. H. W. R. Moore, counsel for the accused in the Assize Court, drew attention to the point he had raised that there was no legal evidence of the existence of a judicial proceeding before which the alleged false swearing took place. The clerk of the Legislative Assembly put in a certified copy of the resolution appointing the committee.

Mr. Justice McPhillips questioned whether it was permissible to have a stated case heard by the court where there has been a disagreement, and in this view Mr. Justice Martin concurred. To Mr. Moore's argument that he was entitled to have a stated case heard Mr. Justice Martin replied: "You cannot get a stated case heard by the Court of Appeal until there is a conviction. It is not a point of when a trial judge may reserve a case, but when it is proper for us to hear it, and it is never proper until there has been a conviction recorded."

Mr. Moore contended that this was not an ordinary question of the admission of wrongful evidence, but whether there had been any evidence of the very first element of the crime alleged. If his point had been decided in favor of his client he would have been entitled to be discharged from custody.

The chief justice explained that the case had not been completed, there having been a disagreement of the jury and a traverse to the next assizes. The right of appeal was purely statutory, and, according to the statute, the Court of Appeal could not hear a stated case until the case had been ended and there had been a conviction.

Mr. Justice McPhillips pointed out that the court had no control over the Attorney-General or the courts below as to the disposition of criminal cases, and as the case was still pending in the criminal courts there was no jurisdiction in it to interfere with it.

Mr. Justice Martin, replying to further argument from counsel, pointed out that the hand of the court could not be forced or be compelled to do something which was contrary to judicial propriety, and the Chief Justice announced that the court was unanimous that the motion should be quashed, being premature.

Mr. J. G. Thompson, commercial agent at Victoria for the Chicago and Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, left Sunday, for a brief visit to Seattle.

Rheumatism, a Sneaking Disease Has at Last Met Its Conqueror

Throbbing Muscles and Swollen Joints Made Well

RUB ON NERVILINE

Old age knows no foe more subtle, more unrelenting than rheumatism.

At first, only a grumbling pain is felt. But, alas, it settles in the joints and muscles, and finally tortures its victims.

Today the disease may be in the muscles of the back, thigh, shoulder or neck—tomorrow in the joints of the hand, toes, arms or legs it may work with redoubled fury.

Whether the pain is constant or occasional, makes no difference to "Nerviline."

Because other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged. Nerviline has cured the worst of cases. It has brought health to those in the deepest despair, has ended years of awful suffering for those who never hoped to be well again.

There is a marvellous healing power in Nerviline which it derives from the extracts and juices of certain rare herbs and roots. It allays almost magically the awful pain that only rheumatics can describe.

Congestion is drawn out of the muscles, stiffened joints are eased and limbered up, the old time feeling of depression is cast off, and once again Nerviline brings the sufferer to buoyant, vigorous lasting good health.

Every home needs good old Nerviline, needs it for earache, toothache, headache, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, stiff neck, chest colds and sore throat. Wherever there is pain, congestion or inflammation, Nerviline will cure it.

Funeral of the Late Bishop

Among those who attended the funeral of the late Bishop Scriven were clergymen representing many parishes of the Diocese of Columbia. Following the hearse were the Very Rev. Dean Schofield, Archdeacon Sweet, of Victoria, and Archdeacon Collison, of Quatsino. They preceded a large number of citizen mourners who accompanied the remains to Ross Bay cemetery, where interment was made.

EXTOL GOOD DEEDS OF BISHOP SCRIVEN

Memorial Services Were Held in All Anglican Churches on Sunday—Character of Late Prelate Subject of Eulogy.

Memorial services in honor of the late Right Rev. Augustine Scriven, Bishop of Columbia, were held on Sunday at all the Anglican churches of the city. The sermons delivered throughout the diocese were notable for the unrestrained manner in which the character and many good deeds of the deceased clergyman were extolled.

The Very Rev. Dean Schofield, speaking at Christ Church Cathedral, chose for his text St. Luke, xxii, 27: "I am among you as he that serveth." He said:

"On the confines of the quiet but beautiful little town of Courtenay, in the extensive mission or parish of Sandwick—a veritable outpost of the diocese—after a Sunday full of those services which must always cheer the heart of a bishop—ordination, confirmation and dedication services, all in the one day, and with a full round of work planned for the day following, Augustine, Fourth Bishop of Columbia, entered into rest as he slept.

"As one considers the circumstances of his passing, the thought forces itself upon one, how constantly such conditions had come to the Bishop we mourn. They express what has been the form of his life for upward of twenty-five years. Hundreds of times this last solemn call might have come and it would have found him in like circumstances. Up and down the country—for most of the time, of course, as archdeacon—Bishop Scriven has been traveling for a quarter of a century at the beck and call of the church.

Life of Service

"No clergyman, no mission, no parish ever asked in vain. To ask was to receive. Tired of body he might be, weary of mind he might be, yet let the call come and the little bag was packed and the Bishop was ready for the road. If there was a train that could take him, well; if not, a bicycle would do; or if not a bicycle, then he would walk. So he has gone on all these years. And when I began thinking of what I should say to you this morning, quite surely this came as the dominant note of the Bishop's life and service. Augustine Scriven, Archdeacon and Bishop, made the Master's word of my text very completely his own. He worked and lived as did the one among us that serveth. And what a service it is that he has rendered! Not only unselfish, but as well bright and happy, patient, gentle, yet strong.

"The service which Bishop Scriven rendered was characterized by two notes, of work—humility and genuineness. The community, quite apart from our membership, in a testimony so universal and unanimous as leave nothing to be desired, has borne its witness here.

"Such service, so patiently and wholeheartedly fulfilled, made one and all love the Bishop. It compelled our loyalty and obedience in return."

A Great Man

Speaking at St. Barnabas' as a man who had known and admired the late Bishop for many years, Rev. E. G. Miller said:

"We all recognized he had powers which his deep sense of humility did not allow to come to the surface, and it was this fact that made us confident that those powers, latent though they were, would be exerted in the episcopal office; and we have not been disappointed but richly rewarded.

"As a classical scholar, he was head and shoulders above his fellows. It was always a pleasure to hear him read the Greek Testament and give the correct grammatical sense, and his comments were invaluable. Pre-eminently among his many virtues was loyalty, spelt with a capital 'L.' His visitations were always welcomed by the various parishes. He came amongst us as a friend; he went away a friend more dearly loved and respected. When necessary he could be severe, but even this virtue was toned by kindliness.

"No one to depend upon in his high office as Bishop, he launched out into the deep and his net was ever full of good things. He never spared himself. Confirmations, private and public, anywhere at any time. Cheerfully he divided the work of a neighboring diocese to allow a brother bishop to go to the front as an army chaplain.

"The diocese mourns a great man, a sound churchman and a scholar. To do something by which we may be remembered! There is so much we have left to us by the lives of great men that we may imitate their virtues which stand out so prominently. This is why God makes great men. Let us, therefore, profit by the many virtues he displayed. Let us not deny to him his rest, but sing our appreciation of his life."

Pay Tribute to the Late Bishop

There was a large concourse of citizens in attendance at the funeral services for the late Right Rev. Augustine Scriven, Bishop of Columbia, on Friday last at Christ Church Cathedral.

Munition Workers in England Keep on Working to Supply Boys at the Front

There were no Whitsuntide holidays for the munition workers in England. To realize the keen disappointment this meant to the thousands of workers in the munition factories of the United Kingdom, it should be stated that Whit-Monday is the first Summer holiday of the season, and as such is eagerly looked forward to. But when it was pointed out to the men what the stoppage of the factories, even for a day, meant to the boys at the front, that it had been computed by a competent authority that the "let-up" in the supply of munitions over the Whitsun holidays meant anything from 10,000 to 20,000 casualties; for the soldier at the front is useless without the produce of the munition factories; guns are impotent without shells; shells harmless without guns—so, "Tommy's" brother in the workshop gave up his holiday.

Mr. Bert Watt, who left the Surveyor-General's Department last year and joined the munition workers, had been looking forward to spending the holiday with some friends at Wisbech, received the following letter, which illustrates the spirit of the women of England towards the Canadian boys who have gone to do "their bit":

"Halidon, Wisbech, June 1, 1916.

"Dear Bert,—Sorry you can't come down here for Whitsun, but I see from the papers that the munition workers would go on. Just now the country is so lovely that a few days rest would have done you good. However, your visit is only postponed. You may well call this war 'cursed,' but never think you could be doing more for the Old Country by being at the 'front.' If only we had had more munitions to start with, many a dear lad who lies buried in Flanders mud would have come back to us. It is maddening to think of. I tell you now what it is easier to say in a letter than to your face, and that is how fine we all think it is of you boys to come to the rescue, especially you married ones. Your wives are fine women to let you go. I thought I had done rather well when I let my boys go without a murmur, but I know in the bottom of my heart that I can never be quite lonely while my husband is with me. What a going home you will have when this job is done. Archie has had a shocking time of it (alluding to his brother who was wounded at Festubert.) When I saw my boy crawling upstairs on one hand and one knee, thin as a lath, and a grey-blue color, I could have slain Germans with my bare hands, and, really, I am not naturally a brute.

"MARY CLAYTON."
